Reds Present New Plan For Middle East

MOSCOW, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Soviet Union proposed today a co-operative Big Four effort to guarantee peace in the explosive Middle East. It would include agreement on an economic development program, ending of arms shipments and junking of Western bases in the area.

Outlining a six-point Middle East proposal to the Supreme Soviet-Parliament, Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov said the Russians are ready "to examine every initiative which would ease relations between the Soviet Union and the three Western powers."

"But while our peaceful foreign policy is meeting with stubborn opposition from the ruling circles of certain capitalist states, we will continue to develop our glorious armed forces and hold our rifles in our hands," Shepilov said, and then, to loud applause from the 1,300 deputies, he added: "And not only our rifles."

Shepilov said the Soviet proposals had been sent to the United States, British and French ambassadors.

The mildness of Shepilov's long statement of foreign policy suggested the Soviet Union, perhaps wanting a cooling off period, is heading into another peace offensive.

Seemingly conciliatory on some points and unyielding on others, Shepilov outlined these six points to the Middle East:

1. Maintenance of peace in the Near and Middle East through settling disputed questions exclusively by peaceful means, by negotiation.
2. Noninterference in the internal affairs; respect for sovereignty and independence.
3. Renunciation of any attempts to include these countries in military blocs with the participation of the great powers.
4. Liquidation of foreign bases and withdrawal of foreign troops.
5. Mutual renunciation of the supply of arms.
6. Cooperation toward economic development without making any political, military or other conditions whatsoever "incompatible with the dignity and sovereignty of these countries."

Points 2 fits in with a long-standing theme that the Communist world stands for noninterference and sovereignty in relations among nations.

Point 3 obviously is a slap at the Baghdad Pact, which links Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan with Britain in a northern tier defense against possible Soviet aggression in the area the Russians always call "the Near and Middle East," meaning a region stretching from North Africa to the eastern borders of Iran and Afghanistan.

On Point 4, the U.S.S.R. has no bases or troops in the Middle East. Britain has bases on Cyprus, in the eastern Mediterranean, and in the Aden protectorate at the southern end of the Saudi Arabian peninsula. The United States has important air bases at Dhahran in Saudi Arabia and at Tripoli, Libya.

Regarding Point 5, the Russians have shipped large amounts of arms to Syria and Egypt. They are reported continuing shipments to Egypt now and preparing to send arms to Yemen, on the border of British-held Aden. Britain and the United States have supplied the armed forces of Iraq, a Baghdad Pact member. Israel's arsenal includes weapons of both Western and Eastern manufacture.

Point 6 seems to be a response to the Eisenhower plan to lend U. S. economic aid to nations of the Middle East needing it while offering armed aid to any nation attacked by forces of a Communist-dominated state.

Rep. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania used still another phrase to describe his party. In a talk prepared for a Lincoln Day affair at Meadville, Pa., Van Zandt urged his audience to become missionaries for "True Republicanism."

GOP National Chairman Meade Aloor, in a speech at Pittsburgh, took note of the debate which has been building up within the party. As if to quiet the storm, he said: "We aren't changing the fundamental beliefs that were enunciated in Lincoln's day, and continue to live today. We aren't uprooting one stone of the foundation that made our party great."

"But we are modernizing the superstructure."

U.S. Denounces Soviet Request For Cooperation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—The United States swiftly turned down today Russia's terms for cooperating with the West to end the dangerous Middle Eastern tensions.

The White House denounced the six-point Soviet proposal as a transparent bid to wreck President Eisenhower's plan to guard the region against Communist aggression.

Speaking a few hours after the Russian proposal was made public, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said:

"Obviously this is a Russian move to try to discredit or stop the Eisenhower plan for the Middle East."

Hagerty's comment, issued at the President's vacation headquarters at Thomasville, Ga., summed up the cold reception to the Soviet proposal which was evident at the State Department.

Top officials after a quick study labeled it a Soviet "propaganda hedgehog" aimed at persuading Arab countries that Moscow can be counted on as their only real friend in the area.

These officials forecast that Arab governments would not be fooled by Moscow's effort to wrap into a new package such repeatedly rejected demands as dismantling of Western bases in the area, withdrawal of Allied forces and a scrapping of all defense alliances.

The Soviets also called for Big Four cooperation in promoting an economic development program for the area.

Initial congressional reaction clearly reflected the administration's view although Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he "wouldn't like to see the proposal turned down cold."

Sen. Long (D-La.), who like Sparkman is a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, added: "It would be interesting if they mean business. The trouble is the Russians don't mean what they say in their declarations."

Eisenhower's Middle East policy resolution is now before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, having been approved earlier by the House. It would give the President advance approval to use U. S. military forces against any open Communist aggression in the area. And, in its present form, it would authorize an emergency military-economic aid program for the Middle East, ranging up to 200 million dollars this fiscal year.

An attempt to cut the aid features out of the resolution was defeated at today's session of the committee. This decision, reported to have been taken on a 17-11 vote, was a major victory for the administration.

Eisenhower, before authorizing Hagerty's terse statement, discussed the Soviet proposal by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles who gave him a brief summary of the main points.

It was clearly on the strength of Dulles' initial views of the Soviet plan that Eisenhower concluded Moscow's main motive was not East-West negotiation but an effort to reverse what is regarded as mounting Arab acceptance of the American plan for easing Mideast tensions.

Hagerty reported at an impromptu news conference that Eisenhower also discussed with Dulles the progress in American efforts to persuade Israel to withdraw its forces from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba areas.

Hagerty declined to reveal whether Israel had yet made known its attitude toward a publicly declared United States offer to allow Israeli ships through the Aqaba Gulf if Israel heeds United Nations appeals for withdrawal of its forces.

However, the New England ports of Boston, Portland, Maine, and Providence hung back for the time being. ILLA leaders there apparently wanted to confirm for themselves the formality of the strike call.

Statement
Secretary of Labor Mitchell, in New York for a speech, issued a statement through his Washington office. It said:

"The parties... are close to an agreement. It is reasonable to expect that if the parties continue discussions a contract will be successfully negotiated. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service will continue to assist the parties in their discussions. The federal government plans no further steps at this time."

A similar statement was issued at President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Thomasville, Ga., by press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty said Eisenhower had received a report from Mitchell during the afternoon.

The union let a 5 p.m. strike deadline pass without formally calling out its dockers. But ILLA President William Bradley said the strike was automatic with the second deadline—6:10 p.m.

Six thousand longshoremen in Philadelphia walked out on the original deadline.

ILLA attorney Louis Waldman said the union and New York shippers were agreed on 90 to 93 per cent of the issues that have stalled them since last summer. The New York contract usually sets the pattern for other Northeast and Middle Atlantic ports.

Injunction
The strike originally was set for 5 p.m., expiration time of an 80-day Taft-Hartley law injunction that interrupted last November's waterfront strike.

Tension gripped 520 miles of piers in New York, city's greatest harbor. It already was beset by a semi-crippling tugboat strike. An added strike of longshoremen confronted shippers with business disaster.

Passenger ships were already diverting from New York, seeking a strike-free haven. The Queen Elizabeth, world's largest liner, prepared to put in at Newfoundland rather than come on to New York, where she is due Thursday.

It was one of the most dramatic climaxes in the history of New York waterfront negotiations.

One of the big issues in the contract talks was the union demand for a blanket contract covering all East and Gulf Coast ports. However, a separate court injunction forbade them to force this issue with a strike.

Subsequently, 15,000 dockers south of Virginia reached contract agreements on their own with local employers and ceased to be a factor in any renewal of the original strike.

Wages were not a vital issue in the final negotiations.

One of the chief stumbling blocks was insistence by the 170-member New York Shippers Assn. that the contract concede that employers are the final judges of when and how the waterfront should be worked.

The ILLA contended that, in some instances at least, employer decisions must be subject to arbitration.

American Communist Party Reduces Ties With Moscow

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—The American Communist party today declared its independence of Moscow.

It voted overwhelmingly in the final session of a four-day convention to do its own interpreting of Marxist-Leninist principles.

Such action—following a Communist course along independent and national lines—is commonly called "Titoism," although the American Communists did not use that term.

Max Weiss, the party's national education director, described the move as "an explicit declaration of the independent and equal status of our party in relation to the world Communist movement."

He said this ended a tradition "by which we tacitly assumed that the interpretation of Marxism-Leninism made by the Communist party of the Soviet Union was ipso facto valid and all we had to do was creatively apply their interpretations to our conditions."

Introduction
Weiss introduced the resolution. It said American Communists would interpret and apply Marxist-Leninist principles "in accordance with the requirements of the American class struggle and democratic traditions."

It stressed that American Communists rejected as obsolete and incorrect old Red theories of the inevitability of war and revolution. It recognized, it said, "the possibility in our country of a peaceful constitutional transition to socialism."

A party spokesman said 12 or 13 of the 298 delegates voted against the resolution and that about five did not vote. He said the rest favored it.

Judge Failed
To Receive
Jury Records

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12 (AP)—A Dauphin County judge testified today that parts of secret special grand jury records were never delivered to him until after they mysteriously appeared in public files.

"My memory is so clear on this I would say that no transcript was delivered," said Acting President Judge William H. Neely in a statement from the bench.

The special grand jury recommended indictment of 22 persons on charges of conspiring to defraud the Turnpike Commission of 19½ million dollars. An additional indictment was returned against suspended Chairman G. Franklin McSorley for misconduct in office.

It was the original copy of the grand jury record for Jan. 16 that was to be delivered to Neely, but which wound up in public files of the court clerk.

"I had no knowledge of its existence until it came to my attention Jan. 31," Neely declared.

Court reporters were under instructions to deliver all records in person to Neely.

The judge testified at a special hearing called by the court yesterday to determine how the records became misplaced.

Wood Approved
As House Clerk

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12 (AP)—Former Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood today won unanimous approval for appointment as chief clerk of the House at a salary of $9,990 a year.

He succeeded William E. Habbshaw who died earlier this month. Wood, of Montgomery County, was sworn in by Judge Walter R. Sohn of Dauphin County Court.

Good Morning!

He: "Pardon me, but may I ask your age?"
She: "Why, I have seen 19 summers."

He: "May I ask then, how long you have been blind?"

Fairless Raps Areas Seeking Communism

TOKYO, Feb. 12 (AP)—Benjamin Fairless said today "if any country wants communism, my answer to that is to let them have communism."

The chairman of President Eisenhower's Citizens Committee on Foreign Aid hinted at a news conference the committee's March 1 report may recommend a cut in American assistance to uncommitted Asian nations, the neutrals in East-West affairs.

"I think personally the free world is definitely winning the cold war," said Fairless, former head of the U.S. Steel Corp., at the closing stage of a world study tour launched Dec. 27.

Marshall Plan
"Undoubtedly," he said, "Europe would have gone Communist—except for America's postwar Marshall Plan support."

"I don't know if similar aid can save Asia. It is very hard to save anybody unless they want to be saved."

"As far as you and I and the United States are concerned, we are attempting to help people help themselves."

"If they want freedom we, to the extent of our abilities, are going to help them remain free. If any country wants communism, my answer to that is to let them have communism."

The budget President Eisenhower submitted to Congress Jan. 16 asks a hike of 256 million dollars in foreign aid spending to a total of $4,363,000,000 for military and economic help to friendly countries.

Fairless confirmed that the question of aid to neutral will be a "part of our report." He declined to preview any recommendations that will be made, explaining:

Reply
"To say whether India or any other country should or shouldn't have American aid is not for me to say."

About 75 million dollars of American aid was earmarked for India, the bellwether of South Asia, in the 1956-57 fiscal year.

Fairless said that, on the 18-nation tour: "We found no gross misuse of American aid. None has come to our attention, but that doesn't mean there hasn't been any."

A Japanese reporter said: "You have spent only three days in Japan. Are you satisfied your findings will make a well-grounded report to your president?"

Fairless replied sharply: "We think we're qualified. You may think we're not."

State House Resolutions

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12 (AP)—Resolutions offered today in the House would:

Direct the House to ask Congress to adopt standard time as the official time for the entire nation throughout the year — Erb (R-Blair), Worley (R-Adams).

Urge the governor to declare Feb. 16 as Lithuanian Independence Day in recognition of the 38th anniversary of the declaration of Lithuania as a free republic—Taylor (D-Phila), Luty (D-Allegheny), Kamyk (D-Allegheny, Polaski (D-Erie).

Commend the heroic deeds and example of devotion to the ideas of freedom and brotherhood that motivated Thaddeus Kosciuszko to help the United States in its hour of need—Kamyk, Petrosky (D-Westmoreland), Polaski, Taylor.

Edwin C. Hill Dies

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 12 (AP)—Edwin C. Hill, 72, radio news commentator, died at a hospital today.

Record Endorses Judge Fred Davis

THE "SITTING JUDGE" principle has long been followed in Pennsylvania. It is a commendable attempt to keep the courts as free as possible of politics.

This principle says that a judge up for reelection should, in the absence of misconduct and some similar offense, have the support of both political parties.

Experience has proved that the practice of extending bipartisan support to worthy sitting judges and retaining them on the bench makes for better government.

A judge who has completed his term and who has handled his judicial duties with integrity and fidelity should be kept on the bench. Otherwise, judges who are fearful of being turned out of office at the end of their current terms would be tempted to yield to political expediency while on the bench.

If judges are not divorced from politics, the best qualified lawyers will be unwilling to accept appointment or seek election to the bench and the foundations of an independent judiciary will be undetermined. And an independent judiciary is one of the essential cornerstones upon which American liberties depend.

The sitting judge principle assures people of tried and experienced judges. Political consideration should play no part in their selection.

The Pennsylvania Bar Assn., its membership made up of attorneys all over the state, appreciates the importance of keeping able and experienced jurists on the bench. It has been trying for many years to take judges out of politics.

County bar associations have frequently crossed party lines to endorse sitting judges they know to be well qualified.

Eisenhower Proposes Plan Of 'Modern Republicanism'

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S call for a program of "modern Republicanism" was surveyed by GOP Lincoln Day orators Tuesday — and at least one of them took issue with the phrase.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa.), chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee, said in Cincinnati there is no need to search for a "new label" for the Republican party.

In a speech prepared for a GOP meeting in the home town of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Simpson said:

"The modern Republicanism in which I believe is the Republicanism of Lincoln and Taft."

Conclave
At another party conclave, in New York City, the president of the National Republican Club declared "the brand of Republicanism that the nation wants is Eisenhower Republicanism."

Daniel J. Riesner, head of the New York organization, said Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism" has been contrasted by its critics with what they call "real Republicanism."

"Real Republicanism is modern Republicanism," Riesner said in his prepared text.

Rep. Van Zandt of Pennsylvania used still another phrase to describe his party. In a talk prepared for a Lincoln Day affair at Meadville, Pa., Van Zandt urged his audience to become missionaries for "True Republicanism."

GOP National Chairman Meade Aloor, in a speech at Pittsburgh, took note of the debate which has been building up within the party. As if to quiet the storm, he said: "We aren't changing the fundamental beliefs that were enunciated in Lincoln's day, and continue to live today. We aren't uprooting one stone of the foundation that made our party great."

"But we are modernizing the superstructure."

ONE MAN'S LIGHT—Employees at East Stroudsburg's Line Material Industries plant celebrated the 110th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison this week with a huge birthday cake topped by an authentic replica of Edison's first electric light bulb. Monday was proclaimed "Edison Day" in East Stroudsburg by Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory, LM is part of the recently-formed McGraw-Edison electrical group. Plant manager G. L. Smrz, noting the anniversary, said the local company, which makes pole line hardware for thousands of utilities and small manufacturers throughout the nation, is "an integral part" of one of the largest, most diversified firms in the electrical industry.

Viewing the Screens Draws Mark

THE BROTHERS, the Tuesday night situation comedy, was due to fold, but a new sponsor has picked it up and it will be around until the summer. . . . Jack Palance has been tapped for the lead in a Playhouse 90 drama, "The Last Tycoon" to be seen March 14. . . . Steve Allen is making preparations to do his show from Hollywood for two weeks in the spring.

That interesting and educational program "The Last Word," seen Sunday afternoons, has been on the air only a few short weeks, but already some 26,000 letters have poured in from viewers. . . . "The Helen Morgan Story" is scheduled for April as a Playhouse 90 production, but CBS has been asked by Warner Bros. to delay it until the film biography can be released to the theaters. Polly Bergen has the television lead and Ann Blythe will portray the late blues singer on the screen.

"Disneyland" goes behind the scenes tonight at 7:30 on Chs. 6 and 7 to reveal "Tricks of Our Trade," a study of the fine points of animation, the "tricks" being the methods by which Disney's artists teach themselves to make cartoon figures look more realistic. There will be scenes from "Snow White," "Fantasia" and "Bambi." . . . "Father Knows Best" presents "Betty and the Jet Pilot" at 8:30 on Chs. 3 and 4, wherein a flight lieutenant loses his crash helmet while testing a plane. Bud finds it, and the end result provides a major change in Betty's life.

"The Man Who Couldn't Say No," a comedy of a young American in postwar Dresden who falls in love with a beautiful dealer in black market goods, will co-star Robert Culp and Barbara Cook on Television Theater at 9 p. m. on Chs. 3 and 4. . . . Hugh O'Brien, TV's "Wyatt Earp," will toss leather instead of lead in "Ring-side Seat" at 9:30 p. m. on Chs. 6 and 7. . . . Garry Moore's "I've Got A Secret," in the same time slot on Chs. 2 and 10, will come from Winter Haven, Fla., with all the gang on hand to quiz the contestants.

Shelley Winters, star of Broadway and Hollywood, and Pat Hingle will be seen in "Inspired Alibi," a story of conspiracy between an idealistic girl and a thief, on the "United States Steel Hour" at 10 p. m. on Chs. 2 and 10. . . . Ralph Edwards returns from a recent illness at the same time on Chs. 3 and 4 to surprise some guest on "This Is Your Life."

Sports

Boxing at 10 p. m. on Chs. 6 and 7—Joe Brown, of New Orleans, defends his world lightweight championship against Wallace "Bud" Smith, of Cincinnati, in a 15-round bout from Miami Beach, Fla.

Analomink Club To Hold Meeting

ANALOMINK—Analomink's entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League will hold a meeting here at the home of Melvin "Bub" Bush today.

All members of the club are asked to attend the meeting at 7:30 p. m.

WILLIAM P. DEERING, local chess enthusiast who lives at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, entertained a group of followers of the ancient game at the hotel recreation room recently. Luncheon was served and many reminiscences of high-light contests on the field of 64 squares were exchanged. Several baffling basic chess problems were worked out.

The host and all his guests are members of the Stroudsburg Chess Club and several delayed engagements were played off during the afternoon.

John M. Price, club president, and the host of the party have had a game planned for some time. On this occasion they played it off. It was a long and well-contested engagement and resulted in a draw. Another off postponed game, this between Mitchell Stackhouse and Edward Bosman, the latter of East Stroudsburg, was finally played off and this, even every step of the way, ended in a draw.

Two Wins
Louis Mondelle of East Stroudsburg, and Deering also played one draw, but Deering won both of the next two games from the former Marine.

Price was in fine fettle and took on Stackhouse, recognized as a first class player defeating him each time. Price then tangled with Louis Mondelle in a single game and the club president went down to defeat.

Mondelle, who was playing well all the afternoon, took on Edward Bosman but was no match for the mathematician, losing two games after stubborn defense.

Colleen Townsend To Appear In Film At Pen Argyl Rally

COLLEEN TOWNSEND EVANS, formerly a Hollywood movie actress, has the leading role in the colorful and exciting Christian film, "Great Adventure," which will be shown on Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the Salvation Army auditorium in Pen Argyl.

Several years ago Miss Townsend (now Mrs. Louis Evans) decided to forsake the glamor and excitement of Hollywood to engage in full-time Christian work. Miss Townsend made this decision despite the fact that at that time she was one of the most popular actresses in America.

Recently she starred in two great Billy Graham films "Oiltown, U. S. A." and "Souls in Conflict." Also featured in the film will be the singing of Charlie Turner, of the famous Haven of Rest quartet.

Gilmore Honey and Bernard Bone will have charge of the rally. The Pusher and Puller youth teams led by Miss Marilyn Shimer and Ronald Mahlen, of Bangor, and Miss Rona Sanderson and Bernard Bone, of Pen Argyl, will participate in the meeting.

Miss Bonnie Shutter will serve as pianist for the group singing. Several musical selections will be rendered by a quartet from Bangor High School.

Refreshments will be served in the social rooms at the close of the meeting.

World Day Of Prayer On March 8

"WHO SHALL Separate Us?" will be the theme of the 1957 World Day of Prayer.

In an estimated 140 to 160 nations around the world, the special day—March 8—will be devoted to programs and prayers centered on the Iron Curtain countries and their people.

The text of this year's prepared program for World Day of Prayer was written by Servane Vaseady, a refugee from Hungary.

One local meeting—there will be others in other areas of the country—will be held in Zion Reformed Church, Eighth St., Stroudsburg. It is scheduled for 2 p. m. on March 8.

Sponsored

The meeting is sponsored by church and lay groups in Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Shawnee and Cherry Valley as well as other small surrounding communities.

Mrs. Lee Croasdale is the local general chairman assisted by Mrs. Merlin J. Rutt and Mrs. Clifford C. Cramer. A planning session for the meeting was held Monday at Mrs. Croasdale's home.

In 1956 a total of 146 countries participated in the World Day of Prayer. It was the most successful observance of its kind thus far, international spokesmen said.

Special Hike For Cubs

DEN ONE of Cub Scout Pack 97 met recently and featured a Penny Hike. The group enjoyed refreshments at the end of a five-block walk.

Reserve Unit Takes Part In Firing Event

MEMBERS of "M" Company 313th Inf. Regt. left the Stroudsburg Reserve Center at 8 a. m. Sunday and conveyed to the Reserve Center in Scranton where a range firing problem was conducted.

The unit members fired in competition with one another, so that a rifle team might be picked to represent this unit in competition to be held by Second Army.

The six-man team is comprised of 1st Lt. George Miller, M/Sgt. Dale Johnson, Donald Smith, SFC Charles Schaller, Pvt. Raymond Miller and Pvt. James Altomose. Alternates are: Pfc. Harold Martz and Pvt. Ronald Heller.

Classes

When the men were not actually on the firing line they were engaged in dismounted drill and a class on map and compass reading.

The noon meal was arranged and served by the company's own Mess Sgt. Thomas Newhart and First Cook Pfc. Harold Martz. At the conclusion of the problem the company conveyed back to the Stroudsburg center, arriving at 5:30 p. m.

Daily Record Endorses Judge Fred Davis On Basis Of His Record And Experience

Just recently, the Lackawanna Bar Assn. endorsed Common Pleas Judge Otto P. Robinson and Orphans Court Judge James Brady for renomination and reelection. The former is a Republican, the latter a Democrat.

Similarly, the Schuylkill County Republican Committee's executive board endorsed two sitting judges, James Curran, a Democrat, and Charles Staudenmeier, a Republican, whom it described as "industrious, impartial and fearless jurists."

On May 10, 1951, the Monroe County Bar Assn. endorsed the candidacy of President Judge Chester H. Rhodes of Stroudsburg for reelection to the Pennsylvania Superior Court.

Earlier in the same year, The Daily Record called for the support of the three sitting judges of that court, Judge Rhodes and the late F. Clair Ross, both Democrats, and Judge Robert E. Woodside, a Republican. All three were reelected.

This year, the citizens of Monroe and Pike Counties will have the opportunity to cast another vote for good government. Judge Fred W. Davis, who has served on the bench in the Monroe-Pike District since June 12, 1945, has announced he will seek both Republican and Democratic nominations for reelection at the May 21 primary election.

Judge Davis has served the district well since he was elevated to the bench to succeed the late Judge Samuel E. Shull.

He has demonstrated his capabilities and his 12 years' experience cannot be gainsaid. His reputation as a learned and fair jurist has brought him in demand to handle cases in courts the length and breadth of this Commonwealth.

The Daily Record feels, as it felt when Judge Rhodes was seeking reelection, that Judge Davis' record is a credit to the courts he has served and is exemplary of the independent judiciary that is our ideal.

It believes sincerely, therefore, that Judge Davis deserves the support of all citizens who put good government ahead of partisanship and the full backing of the leaders of both political parties.

Governor Leader Wisely Requests Legislature To End Business-Industry Taxes That Cost Jobs

Gov. George M. Leader's budget calls for an all-time record spending of more than two billion dollars for the two-year fiscal period. It proposes more than a hundred million dollars in new taxes.

Not to be overlooked is the Governor's request that the Legislature eliminate some of the nuisance taxes on business and industry which are costing Pennsylvanians jobs.

There is no doubt that our state tax system now drives industry out of Pennsylvania and warns new industries away from the state. The industries that should have been established here, to take advantage of our economic resources, our geographical position and our capable workers, have gone to other states.

The elements of this tax situation have been carefully studied. It is no longer merely a claim by business groups agitating for tax advantages—it is a demonstrated fact that Pennsylvania has been losing part of its place in the economic sun because it costs too much to do business here.

Specifically, Mr. Leader wants the Legislature to permit Pennsylvania manufacturers an exemption from the capital stock tax (worth $13,000,000 a biennium), to repeal the excise tax which is a sort of penalty of expansion or additional investment (worth $5,000,000 each two years) and repeal the corporate loans tax (another $6,000,000).

If we can get new industries by giving up these revenues, we'll make a good bargain. We'll acquire new tax assets, for industries will continue to pay a fair share of the state's costs. Best of all, we'll get jobs for Pennsylvanians—and there's no better road to prosperity than a fully-employed people.

George Sokolsky Says...

Red China's Non-Membership In U. N. Give Her Advantage In Imperialistic Plundering

During the Korean War, Red China intervened, took over the war, defeated the United Nations, and, in the process, took over the lives of millions of Americans, and entered upon a prolonged negotiations over prisoners of war, negotiations which are being continued to this very day.

Did the United Nations impose sanctions upon Red China? Not at all! Red China is not a member of the United Nations; therefore it could seize Tibet; it could take a chunk of territory out of Burma; it could create a sphere of influence in Nepal without suffering any consequences. It could stir up a war in Indochina and permit its territory to be used as a military base.

There is an enormous advantage in not being a member of the United Nations because then it is possible to engage in imperialist war enterprises and not suffer any consequences. Red China subsequent to these acts of imperialism conducted an active campaign to be admitted into the United Nations and has encountered considerable sympathy and support, particularly among those Afro-Asian nations which apparently favor rewarding such imperialism by permitting a country to absorb its way into the United Nations.

Furthermore, there has always been a cynical element in the State Department which prides itself on its ultra-realism and which therefore favors Red China's entrance into the United Nations on the pragmatic ground that nothing succeeds like success and the torture and murder of American citizens are routine hazards of international relations.

So, Soviet Russia, a member of the United Nations, sent an overpowering army, including tanks which rode roughshod over women and children, into Hungary to repress an uprising of the people for self-government. Never in modern times was an imperialistic action so overt, so brutal, so frank.

Did the United Nations impose economic or other sanctions upon Soviet Russia for its genocide in Hungary? Not at all! There were about 10 resolutions concerning Soviet Russia's conduct in Hungary, but Russia flouted them all and laughed at the United Nations and its pretenses at power.

Did the United Nations impose economic sanctions against Soviet Russia over Hungary? Don't be silly! Apparently there was even a denial that American radio facilities were used to encourage the Hungarians to declare their independence, although the balloons could not be denied because they are demonstrable. It pays to be a strong power in the United Nations, with a permanent seat on the Security Council and the right of veto, because then it is possible to tell anybody to go to the devil.

India went into Kashmir the way Red China went into Korea and Soviet Russia went into Hungary. The United Nations proposed a plebiscite. India rejected a plebiscite because Nehru calculated that he would lose the plebiscite. Pakistan suggested a U. N. police force to hold Kashmir. Nehru is an imperialist, taking what he can take and sending his devil's disciple, Krishna Menon, to make a seven-hour long speech until nausea overtook him. He is a galling and retelling.

Did the United Nations impose economic sanctions against India for its imperialism and its rejection of United Nations resolutions? Not at all! The United Nations is silent about Kashmir. And the State Department takes its policy from Chester Bowles, the erstwhile huckster who was sent to India to make the United States popular there by word and by giveaway, but who instead has become Nehru's supplementary emissary to the United States. Amazingly, he has not been restored to ambassadorial rank.

It is only against Israel that the United Nations and the State Department seek to impose sanctions perhaps as a challenge to discover whether manna will truly drop from Heaven when the Israeli have nothing to eat but the sand of the Sinai Desert. It does not pay to be small and not to have oil wells and not to have blackmail powers in this current, pragmatic era.

The Once Over

IMAGINARY TELECASTS No. 1

MC—Folks, we have here a very pathetic case. It's one that will stir your hearts. Welcome, Mr. Pooks.

What's your story?

Pooks—I'm a sponsor of TV tear-jerker or tin-clip shows. I'm up against it.

MC—Are you short of money?

Pooks—Oh, no. That's one of my troubles. I have too much money. It means nothing to me. I just throw it around.

MC—If it isn't money, what is your trouble?

Pooks—Well, I'm pretty sick.

MC—What's wrong?

Pooks—I've just tuned into one of my own programs! It's forbidden among sponsors to do this and I've lost face for it. None of the others will have anything to do with me.

MC—You seem to be in rags.

Pooks—My clothes got all torn off in conferences with my advertising agents. I tried to get them to agree the program was in bad taste, an exploitation of mis-and pretty sickening all around. They pitched on me. Boy, they're tough!

MC—How long since you ate?

Pooks—Several days. I haven't been able to keep much food down since I saw one of the programs I've been sponsoring for months.

MC—Why hadn't you taken a look at the program before?

Pooks—You know how sponsors are. They just look at sales figures.

MC—Why don't they pay attention to the programs into which they pour millions?

Pooks—I guess we just don't like that sense of personal guilt.

MC—When you finally did listen to your program and realized it was pretty bad, why didn't you demand that the show be stopped?

Pooks—I did. And the board of directors fired me. They don't look at the programs and they wouldn't stand for me doing it.

MC—So you're now out of a job, hungry and in pretty bad shape, Mr. Pooks? How can we help you?

Pooks—Well, I'd like a rifle so I could shoot my advertising agent.

MC—What else?

Pooks—I wish somebody would send me in some sackcloth and ashes so I could atone for what I've done as a sponsor.

Philadelphia, Pa.
February 8, 1957

Mr. Horace G. Heller, Gen. Mgr., RECORD, Stroudsburg, Pa.

Dear Mr. Heller:

As State Chairman for the Crusade for Freedom, I feel it is very important that we clarify our position in the minds of the American people on Radio Free Europe's objective, in broadcasting to the people behind the Iron Curtain.

Radio Free Europe, the broadcasting end, and Free Europe Press, the balloon-borne miniature newspaper operation, are both "arms" of the Crusade for Freedom. Neither, has preached the violent overthrow of any government, but have only "reminded" their audience in the Soviet orbit of its "duty" to press for freedom through peaceful political opposition... non-cooperation with the Soviets. RFE broadcasts have presented nothing but objective news and commentaries.

On November 11, 1956 over Radio Budapest, the present Hungarian Communist boss Janos Kadar admitted the real cause of the rebellion was oppression—"We must all agree that the real reason for the people's movement which started October 23 must be sought in the serious faults and crimes which have been committed by the former Hungarian Communist party boss) Rakosi clique, which was greatly influencing the regime of the country and the party, and which caused great damages to the working population of the country."

President Eisenhower, at his press conference on November 14, 1956, evidently disturbed by the charges, said that the U. S. had never advocated open rebellion by an undefined populace, such as Hungary "against force against which they could not possibly prevail." What we have done, he added, was to encourage the people in captive nations to keep their spirit of freedom alive—not to lose hope.

Did the United Nations impose economic sanctions against India for its imperialism and its rejection of United Nations resolutions? Not at all! The United Nations is silent about Kashmir. And the State Department takes its policy from Chester Bowles, the erstwhile huckster who was sent to India to make the United States popular there by word and by giveaway, but who instead has become Nehru's supplementary emissary to the United States. Amazingly, he has not been restored to ambassadorial rank.

It is only against Israel that the United Nations and the State Department seek to impose sanctions perhaps as a challenge to discover whether manna will truly drop from Heaven when the Israeli have nothing to eat but the sand of the Sinai Desert. It does not pay to be small and not to have oil wells and not to have blackmail powers in this current, pragmatic era.

How could we have done anything less? The alternatives would be either to deny that the freedom of spirit is worth keeping alive or to say nothing at all, which would amount to the same thing.

I am confident you will be interested in the following International News Service item from Bonn, Germany, January 25.

"Bonn, Jan. 25—INS—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today absolved Radio Free Europe of any blame for the deaths of thousands in the October-November Hungarian Revolution.

The privately sponsored American organization, Adenauer told reporters at his regular news conference, did not promise the Hungarian patriots armed assistance from the West.

The Chancellor's statement was couched in the strongest terms to rebut charges made by the Russians and others and demands by the West German socialists that the Bonn Government close down RFE broadcasting facilities in Germany.

Adenauer said officials of his government had made a month-long study of recordings of RFE broadcasts to Hungary during the month of the Hungarian rebellion."

The Crusade for Freedom, originally founded by the then General Eisenhower and General Clay in 1950, deserves editorial support in our country. Certainly recent events in Hungary would indicate that it is particularly important that the Crusade continue its effective work. Anything you can do to bring to the attention of your readers the program conducted by the Crusade will assist in putting this outstandingly worthwhile cause in its proper light.

If you have any questions or comments, I shall be very pleased to hear from you.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Final Form Of Agreement With Saud Still Uncertain

Washington, Feb. 12: Two key factors are behind the State Department's nervous silence regarding the amount and terms of a green agreement with King Saud:

(1) Its final form is still uncertain. So far the accord is largely "in principle." Numerous details have yet to be worked out in negotiations in Washington and Saudi Arabia.

(2) Certain demands of the Arab ruler can be granted only under the President's new Middle East policy. Congress will first have to enact the joint resolution, which authorizes exceptional military and economic measures, to legalize those proposed for Saud.

Most of these special provisions are of a military nature.

Foremost among these concessions to the oil-rich Arab country are waiving the usual requirements for the right to check on the maintenance and employment of the military aid that is supplied, and the handling of "services and information."

These are basic features of military assistance agreements empowered by the Mutual Security Act. Saud flatly balked at signing such a pact. To overcome this obstacle, Secretary Dulles agreed to give Saudi Arabia military supplies without these safeguards.

The new Middle East policy will permit such arrangements. The agreement with Saudi Arabia will not be formally signed until after the policy becomes law.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee members have been informed by a State Department source that King Saud "materially facilitated this phase of the agreement by giving his personal assurances that U. S. weapons will be used only for the legitimate self-defense of his country, and will not be turned over to other Arab nations."

These senators, who are carefully looking into the whole matter, also have been apprized that Saudi Arabia is opposing a large U. S. Military Mission.

The Pentagon deems this necessary on the basis of the extensive military aid proposed by Saudi Arabia. Estimates of this total as high as $100,000,000 over a five-year period. That's the duration of the new lease on the U. S. strategic airbase at Dhahran. But the Arabs are insisting on a small mission, and the issue will have to be settled in further discussions.

The same will be necessary on an estimated $100,000,000 in economic aid that Saud wants.

Among the projects listed by the Arab ruler are an office building to house the government in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia capital; a 200-bed hospital; an atomic power plant; a civilian airport; a number of schools; and a railroad line with all the necessary equipment, including a sizable port development.

Under investigation by Foreign Relations Committee members is a private report that officials of Arabian-American Oil Company (ARAMCO) participated in State Department's negotiations with King Saud.

ARAMCO has the contract for Saudi Arabia's immense oil production. Last year's royalties to Saud were upwards of $300,000,000. During his ten-day visit in Washington, he was lavishly entertained on several occasions by ARAMCO officials. They also were present at most of the official functions for him and his party.

Big Bargain — Members of Congress are being offered an unusual post-inauguration proposition. They can buy quantities of official souvenir invitations at bargain prices for distribution to friends and constituents. This interesting news has been communicated to the legislators in a letter from Robert Fleming, Washington banker and chairman of the 1957 Inaugural Committee. He states: "You can buy these at the following rates: 50 sets $11.95; 100 sets $22.00; 500 sets $105.00." No report is yet forthcoming from Fleming on how the Inaugural Committee made out financially. In 1953, the Committee made a nice profit. All profits this year will go to Hungarian relief. . . . Rep. Frank Chelf (D., Ky.) has introduced a bill to give former Presidents the privileges of the House and Senate. Under his measure, they would become "guest members" of Congress, and be allowed on the floor of the two chambers when they are in session. The ex-Presidents would not have the right to vote or engage in discussions, but could sit during the deliberations. Actually, former President Truman already has that right as a former member of the Senate.

Speaking of Lincoln's birthday brings to mind the fact that Feb. 12 is also the birthday of an important Monroe County resident. The gentlemen in mention is Thomas Lincoln Waring. Now where did he get that middle name?

First Lieutenant Ray D. Osborn and family have been spending the past week with Lt. Osborn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Osborn, 604 Scott St., Stroudsburg. Lt. Osborn has spent the past three years in Korea and Japan, the last two of which were at Camp Zama, Japan, as PX officer. His wife and family were with him the past two years in Japan.

Lt. Osborn's new assignment, after a six-weeks stay of PX work at Fort Lee, Va., will be Fort Belvoir, Va. The Osborns will live in Springfield, Va. The Osborns flew from Japan to San Francisco on their recent trip home, with stops at Wake Island and Honolulu.

Mrs. Regina O'Neill, 712 Thomas St., celebrated a birthday on Monday of this week.

The celebration included a special dinner with son Gerry.

Ray Price, well known Monroe County automobile dealer, is back from Florida and apparently well rested.

That tan he's wearing is the latest creation and is drawing glances of envy.

Mrs. Harry Janson, Tannersville, is the newest correspondent to join The Daily Record ranks.

Mrs. Janson would like very much to receive any news items or tips of news events in the Tannersville area.

Tips will be appreciated on both stories and pictures.

Bernie Whitman, famed far and wide in the area as a top musician, begins new chores at Pocono Gardens Lodge this week. Bernie will be social director at the resort located near Cresco.

Grammar's Dilemma

Colloquially Solved

Do you say, "Is it?" or "Is it me?" Which is your taste—"Am I not? Aren't I? Ain't I?" And how do you stand on the who - whom dilemma?

Avoid it altogether, I bet. Most of us recognize "To Whom it may concern..." as good usage, but are happily ignorant of the rule governing "whom." Surelonged speakers try to remember that "whom" is used after prepositions, except in instances they can't remember. Except after prepositions, they use "who."

Sharp ones, who know they are out on a limb, simply change their sentence to avoid the whom-whom blockade. Rather than "To whom did you give the $5,000?" they say, "Whadja do witha dough?"

I fancy myself as speller extraordinary and grammarian superb, which news is certain to put the head office editors in deep shock. They have a positive aversion to the slightest airy ways with noun complements, qualifying conjunctions and all like that. They hanker for pure 18th century prose, they do, and whom-ever don't come up with same

Just doesn't know any better. Between you and I, us writers have trouble enough figuring where we are at on tomorrow's work without engaging in controversy with our betters, is what I say. When we inject a well-placed "ain't" in a story and the editor solemnly changes it to "isn't"—well, ain't that life for you! Fellow who leans to 18th century prose is probably a literary snob and not hep to Dr. Berge Evans ($64,000 questions author) who says ain't I is as good as aren't I.

So long as you do know better, you can make some perfectly outlandish mistakes in grammar and be thought quaint and colloquial. But unforgivable is the innocent boner which everybody notices but you.

"He don't care"—rightful. She "enthused" over the play—awful. I expect, used for I suppose—never. "Little Johnny can read good"—shades of Rudolph Flesch! "If you had of seen the movie"—worse than having saw it. "There was no use in him going"—ah, me! "Yourself and friends, invited"—stay home, friends. "Kindly advise" is the most unkindest cut of all.

Now and then these self-same horrors, used for a purpose, can be amusing. Just so the user knows good usage from bad. The idea is to be quaint, but not ignorantly quaint.

Jury Acquits Swiftwater Motorist Of Manslaughter Charge

Defendant Ordered To Pay Costs

A MONROE County jury deliberated more than three hours yesterday before acquitting a 20-year-old Swiftwater motorist charged with involuntary manslaughter.

However, the jury directed the defendant, Noel Paschon to pay all costs in the case.

District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen claimed that Paschon failed to halt his station wagon at a stop sign when entering Route 611 from alternate 611 in Delaware Water Gap last Aug. 24.

As a result, the prosecution contended, the defendant's car crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer operated by Ronald Trivings, Lynnhurst, N. J. Kenneth Allen, East Stroudsburg, a passenger in the car, was killed.

However, defense attorneys Leo Achterman and J. Joseph McCluskey argued that brake failure made it impossible for Paschon to halt his car when he entered the highway.

Convicted jury
Meanwhile, another jury convicted Ronald Burton Flowers, Stroudsburg RD 2, on a charge of failing to stop in the event of an accident. Judge Fred W. Davis deferred sentencing.

The complaint stemmed from a highway accident near the Paramount Motel on Milford Road in East Stroudsburg last September.

William T. Carroll, East Stroudsburg, went on trial yesterday afternoon on a burglary charge. The prosecution has one more witness to call before resting its case.

The district attorney indicated that the court will hear another involuntary manslaughter case, after the Carroll case has been completed.

Indicted on an involuntary manslaughter complaint is John Petronis, 29, of Stroudsburg, alleged driver of a car that collided with a coal truck on Route 611 last May.

A passenger in the Petronis vehicle, Calvin Cavanaugh, Stroudsburg, was killed.

Taxpayers Open Series Of Meetings

THE FIRST in a series of "taxpayers' meetings" for discussion of the East Stroudsburg Area Joint School building program and an assessment increase which directors say will be necessary to float a bond issue is to be held Tuesday, Feb. 19 at the Smithfield Township School.

Smithfield principal Allen Sterner said last night that the meeting will be held at 8 p. m. on that day in the school building. All taxpayers in Smithfield Township are invited and urged to attend.

School directors decided Monday night to put their plight directly before parents and other taxpayers in a series of meetings in individual districts.

The crisis facing the joint district is this: Assessed value on real estate in the area is too low in proportion to the market value. Borrowing power and bond issues are based on the assessed value of the districts. Unless the assessed value is increased no bond issue can be sold and no building program will be possible.

Three Rotary Clubs Gather

POCONO MANOR — Rotarians of the three clubs—Mount Pocono, Newfoundland and Pocono Mountains assembled here at Pocono Manor Inn recently to celebrate the results of an attendance contest.

Last September, the Mount Pocono Rotary Club challenged the other two clubs to an attendance contest and it was decided that the club having the best attendance for a period of three months would be the winner of a contest trophy and the club with the lowest attendance would be the host. Newfoundland came in first, Mount Pocono second and Pocono Mountains third. The losing club acted as hosts to the other two clubs and provided entertainment and dinner.

Introduction
Paul Asure, president of the Mount Pocono club presented Dr. Frank Uridel, president of the Newfoundland club with the trophy, properly inscribed for the victory, and extended congratulations on behalf of all Rotarians for their fine record.

Unlike the usual silver trophies presented on occasions of this sort, this one was a real antique in the form of a dark brown polished earthen jug, which was found in a barn built in 1842 located on the property now owned by Asure. The trophy will pass to the winning club each year and the first club to win the unusual trophy for five times will retain it for all time to come. More than 70 Rotarians were present.

GOOD SCOUTS GET TOGETHER—and so do good parents in the interest of Scouting, the anniversary Scouting dinner audience was told last night at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church. Among principals: Robert Anderson, toastmaster; N. Harold West, Resica Falls reservation executive secretary; Victor Hoehne, district commissioner; Claud Heller, Troop 81 Scoutmaster; Al Van Dreisen, institutional representative; Harry Crouse Sr.; Daniel Miller, field exec.; William Laise, Cubmaster and the Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the sponsoring church.

Local Woman Reports Strange Flying Object

By Leonard Randolph
THE VOICE on the other end of the phone line was soft, feminine and a little hesitant.

"Do you remember those articles you wrote about the couple down in New Jersey and the unidentified flying objects?"

Assured that I did remember them, there was a pause. Then the voice went on:

"Well, I hope you won't think I'm crazy, but I saw something myself early this morning before sunrise. I've never believed in these things, I shrugged off those stories about the flying saucers before. But—well, let's just say I'm sort of curious now. I want to find out more."

Although she had no way of knowing it, the woman on the phone was typical of several phone calls which I have received since the series on Howard Menger first appeared three months ago.

Most of the calls have concerned "sightings." Most of them have been from men or women who were a little uneasy about admitting that they had seen "something." All of them wanted to remain anonymous because they fear the abusive ridicule of other people.

This is one of the "anonymous" stories, therefore. It is worth recounting here, because it does not seem explainable by any of the so-called "natural phenomena" such as light reflection, beacon lights, plane lights, etc.

At 5:00 a.m. yesterday, the woman said, she got out of bed and changed her small baby's diaper. After giving the baby a bottle she went back to bed.

Lying in bed she gazed out the large picture window for a few moments. As she did so she noticed a "red object" moving in the sky. The lower panes of the divided picture window were slightly frosted over. Because of this she got out of bed again, walked to the window and pressed her face close to one of the panes.

The red-lighted object was clearly visible at about a 50-degree angle. It was moving rapidly on a line approximating the tops of evergreen trees across the street from their home. It moved directly across the woman's line of vision.

Studying the object more closely, she deduced that it was "rotating" or "revolving" in a "counter-clockwise direction" as it moved through the air. It was shaped like a disc and it "seemed to be illuminated from the inside by some kind of red light." The rotating motion gave it "an appearance of blurred red color."

The object "moved from right to left" (roughly north) across the woman's vision. Then, suddenly, it appeared to stop or quickly swerve at a direct right angle and began to move away from the woman's vantage point.

During all this action—the woman estimated it could not have been more than two minutes—she heard nothing. She had already eliminated the possibility that this "might be a plane—there were no green lights and the lights did not go on and off decisively."

There was no other light source in the sky, except for the stars—and there were a "lot of those—it was a very starry night." There was no visible fog or mist and no ground fog—"the visibility was excellent." The chance that it could have been an aircraft beacon, reflected on clouds, is negated by the fact that the light was pure red, and, although the tint of the color brightened and dimmed rapidly, it never varied from its original color.

A resident of Stroudsburg, the woman said she wondered if anyone else had seen the same thing. No other calls had come in about this particular "sighting" last night.

The time of the sighting was about 5:15 a.m. yesterday.

Church Pays Tribute To Scout Troops

EAST STROUDSBURG Methodist Church honored its Scout troops last night on the 47th anniversary of Scouting with a dinner attended by 250 persons.

As part of the program, Scouting awards were presented by Claude Heller to the following boys: Second Class Scout awards to William Cyphers, John Clifton, Brian Farris, Claud Heller, Stephen Hoffman and George Kemp; Tenderfoot awards to Gwynne Jones, Patrick Morrison, Barry Repsher, Ronald Fish.

Service pins were presented to the Second Class award winners. Committee members and assistant Scout Masters were introduced by Heller. They were Dr. W. G. Moore, chairman of the committee; Oliver Wilson, Gwynne Jones, Robert Repsher Sr. and Robert Repsher Jr. and assistant Scoutmasters Henry Peters Jr. and Samuel Litts.

Three special awards in Indian lore were given by Bill Laise, Cub Master, to David Reinheimer, first; Richard Butz, second; Raymond Gould, third. A number of other boys received prizes, badges and awards in Cubbing.

Highlight
One highlight of the dinner meeting was a special cake made in honor of the celebration by Mrs. Fred Miller. Tables were decorated for each den in the Cub Pack by members of the den directed by den mothers.

The roast beef dinner was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. George Stutter, Halford Risley, Ed Werkheiser, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Staples, Mrs. Chauncey Bensley, William Laise, Mrs. Marvin Burrus, Mrs. Jack Hindline. Dinner was served by seven couples from the Married Couples Class: Mr. and Mrs. William Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Werkheiser, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crouse Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Norman Potter, Mr. and Mrs. James Shiffer and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Inbt.

The main theme of the meeting was the attraction of more interest and attention by parents and other adults in Scouting. Movies were shown at the end of the program through courtesy of Jack Luckey, Stroudsburg.

Seated at the speakers' table were: Robert Anderson, toastmaster; Daniel Miller, field executive in Scouting; Harold West, executive secretary of the Resica Falls Scouting Reservation; William Laise, Cub Master of Pack 81; Claude Heller, Scoutmaster, Troop 81; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hoehne, district commissioner; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. Al Van Dreisen, institutional representative; Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Moore and Jack Swineford, troop and pack committee chairman; Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of the church.

Tung-Sol Electric Not Planning Area Plant

TUNG-SOL Electric Inc. has "no plans to establish any physical plant in the Stroudsburg area," a company official has notified Ralph D. Paul, president of the Building Trades Council.

Paul, who also is a director of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, had written to David O. Dickson, personnel manager for Tung-Sol at Washington, N. J., for comment on rumors that the company contemplated establishing a manufacturing plant in the vicinity of Stroudsburg area.

Statement
"As you know," Dickson replied, "we employ many fine people who reside in your general area and they are among our most valued employees. They are of excellent caliber and are a credit to their community as well as to themselves."

He further noted, "Our industry is one presently having considerable expansion and holds promise of even greater future growth," but at present has no intention of setting up operations in this area.

State Group Visits ESSTC To Approve Building Sites

A STATE COMMITTEE has visited East Stroudsburg State Teachers College campus in East Stroudsburg to approve sites for three buildings which may be begun by this Fall and look over long-range plans for the campus.

Included in the forthcoming building program are the following:

A library and administration building with an estimated cost of $530,000.

A science classroom building; estimated cost of $350,000.

A woman's dormitory sufficient to house 200 students, estimated cost, $800,000.

Extension of steam water and electric services at a cost of $30,500.

Addition of a boiler to the heating plant and expansion of the plant at an estimated cost of $65,000.

Total cost of the new building program will be about $1,775,000.

In their visit to the local campus the State committee members, according to Dr. Leroy J. Koehler, inspected proposed sites for the new buildings. They also studied a comprehensive (preliminary) sketch of facilities at the college and needed expansion estimates.

Dr. Koehler said that the committee appeared to be in agreement that the college will need an additional 50 acres or more to make room for added playing fields and other facilities.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. A-308

DESIGN A-308. The working drawings call for a complete frame construction with the exception of the floor, which is an insulated concrete slab laid on a gravel fill. The exterior finish is siding and asphalt shingles. The floor plan is designed for use on a narrow city lot and consists of three bedrooms, a combination living-dining room, a kitchen with its own dining space and a utility room. The storage space includes wardrobe closets in the bedrooms, coat closets in the living and utility rooms, plus linen and towel cabinets. The utility room has a supply cabinet and heating and laundry equipment. The floor area is 1,066 square feet and the cubage is 12,672 cubic feet. For further information about DESIGN A-308, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. In Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

Small Furnace Able To Do Big Job

TODAY'S smaller furnace can heat a larger home than ever before. Today's furnace is hardly noticeable. One company has produced a horizontal furnace which may be suspended from the ceiling or tucked neatly out of sight beneath the stairwell. There is a "right" heating system for every home. But every heating system is not right for your home. The National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association, forwards these suggestions to help you select a furnace:

Dividends
A weather-tight house pays dividends. Make sure that storm sash, weather stripping, caulking of frames and joints, insulation of ceilings and other exposed surfaces is adequate. Do not buy on price alone. A heating system is an investment in comfort for years to come. The actual price is not the initial outlay; it includes maintenance and fuel costs for the rest of the furnace's life. Make sure that the heating contractor you select is a qualified and reputable agent. Check with his customers and try to examine his handwork personally.

Window Shade Makes Comeback

THE TRUSTY OLD window shade is making a comeback. Easy to care for and to use, it is now available in pastel colors and metallic weaves. An extra inducement is the room darkening window shade, in two colors, pastel on one side, neutral on the other. These treated with a special process to "completely" shut out the light, are ideal for nurseries.

Place Heaters Near Outlet

AS A GENERAL RULE, water heaters should be placed nearest the outlet or outlets that call for the greatest quantity of hot water. Sometimes, however, this involves excessively long pipe runs to other fixtures. In this case, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out, it is best to install a second water heater to serve the other fixtures and outlets.

Remember Good Rule
A GOOD RULE to remember when considering your storage problem is that anything that fits through your front door can also generally fit through your outside basement entrance, says the Institute of Home Designers. The basement door should be wide enough to permit bulky appliances like food freezers to pass through.

Pine Paneling With Random Widths Gains New Support

PINE PANELING with random widths is not a new idea, but it's one that is gaining in popularity these days. Use of random-width lumber, the Western Pine Association points out, is one of the many ways you can create variety in pine-paneling installations, plus expressing your individuality.

Molding Important In Many Ways

THE MOST finished workman knows his molding. He's got his eye open for new ways of finishing off woodwork. He knows what his lumber yard stocks—foam quarter round to the fancy flutings. And he plans his work with the kind of molding in mind that will make the job look like fine cabinet work.

Conceal Pipes
In addition to finishing work, molding is often used to conceal pipes, wires and bolts. In some rooms, a line of molding near the ceiling will tend to make the room seem smaller and more cozy. Conversely, vertical molding around bookshelves and cabinets gives a room height. A good investment for any home handyman, even if he does only the repairing of window screens with molding, is a mitre box—inexpensive and useful.

'Living' Tops In Consideration

THE MOST important factor a home seeker should bear in mind in considering a home plan is "the amount of convenient living it offers," says Home Planners, Inc., of Detroit, one of the country's foremost sources of home designs. In its new book of plans, "115 Homes for Family Living," the firm urges prospective home builders to "analyze your family's daily habits and the manner in which they want to live," so that you can obtain a plan with the room layout and appointments for convenient living that you want.

Screen Size Important

BE CAREFUL about the size screening that is placed over the opening made for an exhaust fan. Insect screening will cut down the efficiency of a fan by 50 per cent. 1/4-inch wire mesh by only about 20 per cent and 1/2-inch wire mesh by only 10 per cent.

New Methods Of Fastening Grow Popular

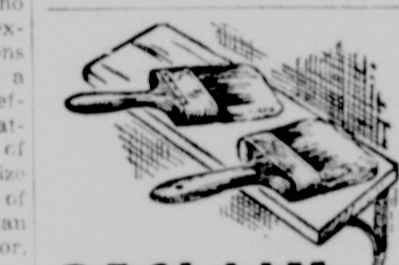

GROWING interest on the part of decorators and home owners in hardwood plywood interiors has inspired the development of new methods of fastening panels, in addition to the time-honored use of nails and screws. Panels may be applied with the use of mastic or they may be put in place by high frequency "welding" with portable machines that introduce heat to adhesives for a tight bond.

Field
In the field of hardware fastenings, there are angle clips secured by screws that slip into notches in horizontal furring strips, panels with a saw kerf on edges to receive a two-sided metal clip supplied with the plywood, and blind-head hammer-in rivets that fasten wood to wood or wood to metal. There are also butterfly spline hardwood furring strips notched to receive the plywood for raised panel effects. One of hardwood plywood's advantages is that it can receive fastenings near the edges without cracking or splitting, due to the material's cross-ply construction.

Chalk Line Guides

A CHALK LINE is useful as a guide when laying tiles or hanging wallpaper. Make one by stretching string between two nails near the surface of the floor or wall and rubbing chalk over the string. Lifting the string lightly and allowing it to snap back leaves a straight chalk mark on the surface.

Burma became an independent state in 1948.

Speed Important To Finish Applied On Inside Woodwork

SPEED IS of the essence where a finish is being put on wood inside the house. Floors present a problem in this regard, but stairs are most troublesome. What dries fast enough to finish stairs and allow up and down traffic?

Water Sticks To Plaster, Brickwork

JUST AFTER a brick house is constructed, it is estimated there is about one ton of water in the plaster and brickwork of an average room.

Even under good drying conditions, many months are required for this water to evaporate completely.

Paint
For this reason, it is wise to use the type of paint on the plaster that will permit the escape and evaporation of the moisture.

When painting is done soon after plastering, a water-thinned paint of the breather type may be used. When adequate time can be allowed for the plaster to dry thoroughly, any kind of wall paint is suitable.

Working on clean, bare wood you can have a natural finish on the time between the kiddies' bedtime and adult time if you use shellac. A thin coat of fresh, white shellac will dry and be ready for the second coat in three hours. Shellac dries rapidly for it is thinned with denatured alcohol which evaporates swiftly.

Stairs
Stairs take a beating so it's advisable to apply a third coat of shellac. This could be done a little longer than three hours after the second coat. An overnight drying period for the third coat is best.

If there is no way the stairs can be shut off, try the following: Cover each alternate step with heavy, clean paper and allow people to walk only on the papered steps. Meanwhile finish the uncovered steps with shellac.

Colors Change In Kitchens

FOR A LONG TIME, the popular kitchen colors have been pastel yellows, greens and blues. In the last several months, however, the earth tones of brown, sand, and shades of red have been coming up fast.

A big boost here has been the expanded use of red quarry tile on floors and counters.

Resists Acid Fumes

BECAUSE they are cement reinforced by asbestos fibers, asbestos-cement building products will resist any acids or acid fumes which are not injurious to concrete. Smoke and fumes from coal combustion, for example, have no disintegrating effect upon them.

Committee Acts To Aid Districts

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12 (P)—The House Education Committee today took action to reimburse Pennsylvania's school districts for the higher teachers' salary authorized by the 1955 Legislature.

It sent to the floor a bill that would give the districts an estimated 33½ million dollars to cover salary increases already granted. Last year Gov. Lender vetoed a similar bill because he said it was "undesirable in that it rolls back for one year the state subsidy to school districts at a time when money has not been made available."

Increase
He added at that time that in 1957 he would recommend a new bill to increase the subsidies. In the past the subsidies were made available to districts at the same time salaries were raised. The last session raised salaries beginning for the school year 1956-57.

Sponsors of the bill are Goodling (R-York), Strausser (R-Columbia) and Moser (R-Bradford).

Other bills gaining committee approval would:

Declare the offices of constable and councilman incompatible — Dunn (R-Northumberland).

Fix a penalty of a $500 fine or six months imprisonment and removal from office for magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace who fail to turn over fines due to a political subdivision within 20 days — Wood (R-Susquehanna), Wescott (R-Susquehanna), Wheeler (D-Fayette), McCann (D-Greene).

Teacher Resigns At Barrett

CRESKO — The resignation of Bernard G. Stinner as a teacher of junior high mathematics in the Barrett School was announced yesterday by C. Willis Dunlap, supervising principal of the Pocono Mountain Joint Schools.

Dunlap also announced that applications for a teacher to fill the vacancy are now being accepted. Applications may be made to either Dunlap or George Webb, principal of the Barrett School.

Those from here who were present included Scoutmaster and Mrs. George Carson, Assistant Scoutmaster and Mrs. William Townsend, Cubmaster and Mrs. Willard Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brydges, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kulp and Roy Wescott.

Senate Acts To Eliminate Danger Spots

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13 (P)—The Senate tonight agreed to seek state Highway Department aid in eliminating two curves on U. S. Route 22 near Easton which were described as "the worst on any modern highway in America."

A resolution adopted by the Senate will direct the state highways department to:

"1. Install proper lighting and directional signs at all interchanges and traffic circles on Route 22 bypass from Allentown and Bethlehem through Easton.

Relocation
"2. Resurvey the area approaching Easton, looking toward elimination of dangerous curves by relocating the highway as a straight course to the existing Easton-Philadelphia bridge over the Delaware River or the building of a new bridge."

The measure, introduced by Sens. Yosko (D-Northampton) and Van Sant (R-Lehigh), also directed the department to confer on the relocation and improvements with the Lehigh Valley Motor Club and the chambers of commerce of the three cities.

Wife Makes Change In Testimony

EASTON, Feb. 12 (P)—A young woman who denied knowing her husband so she could testify for him at his forgery trial changed her testimony today and the husband was sentenced to prison for five to 10 years.

Mrs. Beatrice Bellis Miller, 22, of Alpha, N. J., said she gave false testimony for her husband, Howard, 46, "because I love him."

Order
Judge Clinton B. Palmer of Northampton County Court, who sentenced Miller, ordered his wife held for investigation.

Mrs. Miller testified her husband had coached her for a week in the false testimony. Miller was accused of forging a check for $800.

Miller changed his plea from innocent to guilty after his wife's change in testimony.

Sportsmen To Meet Tonight

FEBRUARY meeting of the Pocono Mountains Sportsmen Assn. will be held tonight at 8 at the Stroudsburg Municipal Building. The business to be discussed is very important, therefore all members are urged to be present.

After the business meeting, Rev. Harold Eaton of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will show color slides of a fishing trip to Maine.

Stroudsburg Lions Club Schedules Two Special Events To Be Featured During Winter Season

TWO SPECIAL events will be featured by the Stroudsburg Lions Club before the end of the winter season.

Lions were informed at their regular dinner meeting at the Penn Stroud Hotel last night that Atty. Conrad Falvello of Hazleton, will speak at the 32nd annual charter night banquet and ball.

Al Caldwell, chairman of the event, said the banquet will be held at the Penn Stroud on Saturday, March 2.

Falvello is a former district governor and now serves as a director of Lions International. His talk was scheduled through the efforts of Sy Katz, a member of the district governor's council.

Meanwhile, the club also was informed that a sea-food dinner will be held at 6 p.m., Monday, Feb. 25 at the Gap View Inn.

Club president Harold Miller announced that plans are being made to hold a joint meeting with the Portland club, which Stroudsburg sponsored.

Last night, the members heard Dr. William Leitner speak on heart disease. He was introduced by co-program chairman Al DeRenzis.

Members also heard a talk and motion picture on mental health. The speaker was Roger Dunning.

Ben Coolbaugh operated the projector.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

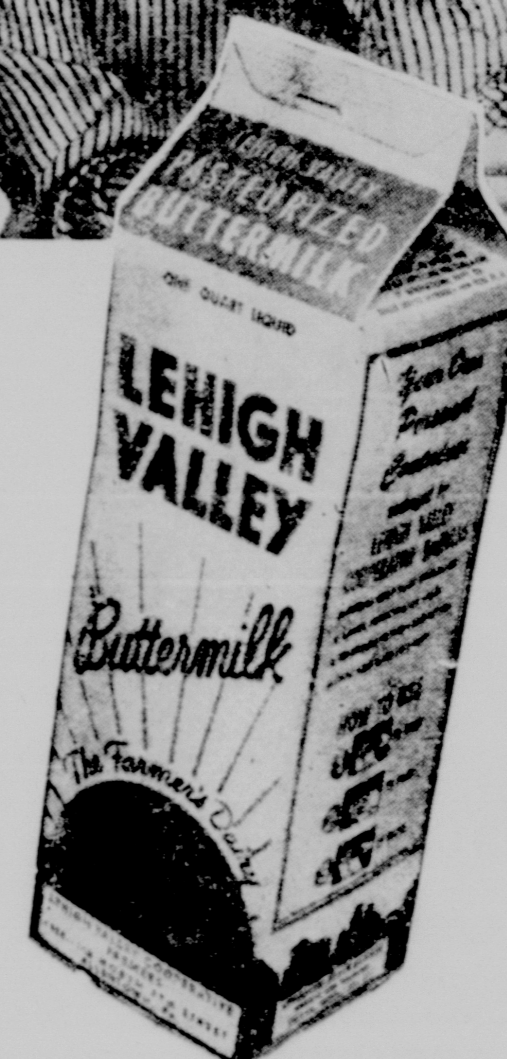

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAL, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAL's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAL's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAL is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAL neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAL exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAL, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

WINTER ROYALTY—Radio-TV favorites Don McNeill and Fran Allison are also the favorite choice of officials of the winter carnival at Saranac Lake, N. Y. They'll be crowned the king and queen there.

FOR A CHANGE OF TERRAIN—Thousands of skiers have found that Oregon's Mt. Hood area offers them a big variety of terrain on which to try their skill. At Timberline, for example, there are slopes of gentle grade and then there's the steeper side of Mt. Hood itself. This scene shows a skiing group on southern slope of the mountain.

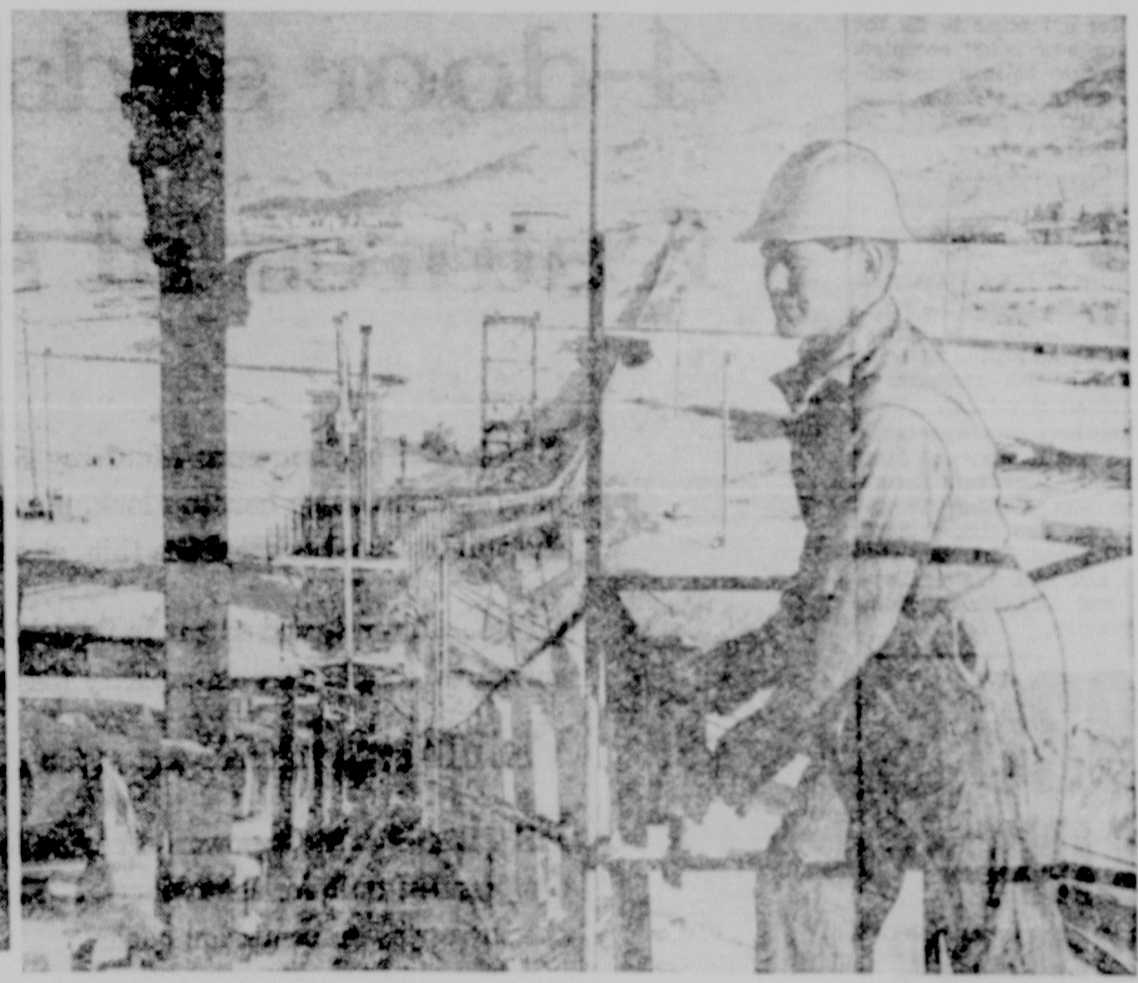

COOL JAYNE—Not that she needs the publicity or that we were flooded with requests, but we thought you might like to see glamor girl Jayne Mansfield on a cake of ice. Here she is in Palm Springs.

A SAFETY LESSON?—This mangled wreck, in which the driver was killed, might prove to be a thought-provoking photo for some motorists tempted to take chances on the highways. Car slammed into a cement piling in Los Angeles.

"VERY CHARMING"—That's what lovely, 19-year-old Susan Hart says about that old rock-and-roller, Elvis Presley. Susan (and this will hurt, girls) plays his sweetheart in his latest movie, "Loving You."

MOVING A MOUNTAIN—Operator surveys the workings of a huge conveyor system which is dumping a 30-million-ton hill of gravel and dirt into Utah's Great Salt lake. It is a $40 million project to build a new lane across a 30-mile expanse of inland sea. The new railroad bed will replace an old wooden trestle.

ROAD TO FUN

THIS MAY LOOK LIKE a one-man (a small one) railroad, but these are just pictures of eight-year-old Cub Scout Steve Scharf trying his hands at railroading. He was one of 9,000 Scouts who rode a collective 540,000 miles in 117 coaches in eight trains to celebrate Pittsburgh's third annual Scout Railroad Day. The day, sponsored by the Community Relations committee of the Pittsburgh railroads, was a bigger success than the lines planned on. At least, Steve thinks so.

Versatile Steve Scharf of Glenshaw, Pa., collects tickets, checks on his time schedule, "highballs" a go-ahead for the train and gets ready to pull out. This conductor-trainman-brakeman-engineer won't forget this "day" soon.

Sanborn On Committee For Workshop

H. G. SANBORN JR., vice president and general manager of Worthington Mower Co., has been elected to the committee planning next Summer's Penn State University Pocono Mountains Management Development Workshop.

Sanborn recently attended a basic planning session in Wilkes-Barre, at which representatives of industries in Scranton, Berwick, Hazleton, Pottsville, Towanda, Kingston, Danville and Allentown were present.

Schedule Dates for the workshop and a schedule for the event will be announced in the near future. It has been revealed by members of the committee.

The workshop was held in Mount Pocono last Summer.

Dates Set For Services

BANGOR—Dates for major services in 1958 were announced Monday night when the Consistory of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church met at the church. Lester Houck, chairman, presided. Opening prayer was offered by the Rev. John C. Brumback, pastor.

The 1958 dates include: Winter communion Jan. 12, Easter communion April 6, Summer communion June 29, Harvest Home Sept. 14, World Wide Communion Oct. 5 and Rally Day Oct. 12.

Arrangements for the every congregation visitation next Monday night were reviewed.

Reports were given by Harold Rice, treasurer; Mrs. Ruth Hahn, financial secretary; and O. R. Dennis, superintendent of the cemetery. It was disclosed that One Great Hour of Sharing will be observed March 31.

Borough Council has held extra session to work on the budget, which is now completed. At the last meeting, in February, there was a quorum present, but three of the members—Shull, Staples and Kitchen—had to be absent, so only routine business was reported to have been transacted. The auditors report was received.

Mrs. Mary Post Selected As President Of Arlington Heights Church Women's Class

MRS. MARY POST has been elected president of the Women's Class of the Arlington Heights Church.

Others elected at a meeting last week were Anna Serfass, secretary-treasurer, and Margaret Smith, head of the Flower Fund. An apron social was planned for March.

The 47th Psalm was read in unison and there was group singing of favorite hymns. Mrs. Olive Merring conducted a Bible study of Exodus 25-30. A short quiz followed.

Present were Mrs. Post, Mrs. Serfass, Mrs. Vivian Butz, Mrs. Aneta Fisher, Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Mrs.

Henrietta George and Mrs. Mering.

An official board meeting of the Arlington Heights Chapel was held Sunday after the regular worship service. The board decided to meet the second Friday of each month. After the board meeting, officers and teachers held their session.

Stock Market Slumps Again

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—The stock market attempted to rally today from yesterday's major selloff but got nowhere and ended the day lower on average.

On balance, the market had descended another rung of the ladder, to the lowest point since October, 1955.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 90 cents to a new 1956-57 low of $168.00, lowest point since Oct. 18, 1955 when it stood at $167.10. The market then was in a discouraged state following President Eisenhower's heart attack late in September.

Component The industrial component was down $1.00 and the rails down 50 cents, both to new 1956-57 lows, while the utilities were off 70 cents.

Based on the decline in the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $1,100,000,000 compared with yesterday's drop of an estimated four billion dollars.

Of 1,155 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 650 to 261. There were 135 new 1956-57 lows and, for the first time this year, no new highs at all.

Volume totaled 2,550,000 shares compared with 2,740,000 yesterday. The most active stock was Bethlehem Steel, up 1/2 at 42 1/2 on 64,300 shares. Second was U. S. Steel, up

1/2 at 58 1/2 on 44,600 shares. Third was General Motors, off 1/4 at 39 1/2 on 37,900 shares.

Next came Curtiss-Wright, off 1/4 at 39 1/2 and Boeing, up 1/4 at 50 1/2.

Of the 15 most active stocks, nine declined and six advanced. Losers included Du Pont 2 1/2, Amerasia 2, Goodyear 1 1/2, Aluminum Ltd 1 1/2, American Telephone 1/2. Among gainers were Kennecott 1/2, New York Central 1/2, Texas Co. 1/2, Eastern Air Lines 1/2 and Allied Chemical 1/2.

Come try the BIG BUY (You can boss this Buick Special for little more than the price of a smaller car!)

ONE LOOK at that price figure and you'll know that—again in 1957—if you can afford a new car you can afford a Buick.

And look what you get for so little extra money. You get the most completely new Buick in years. Not just brand new in styling and brand new in body design.

But new in features that make this the dream car of the year to drive.

You get brand-new performance because the engine is literally new from the crankshaft up.

Barrett Club Sets Dates For Benefits

Barrett — Summer bloomed at the meeting of the Barrett Community Club when Mrs. Raymond Price, Mountainhome, as their guest speaker showed color slides on gardens and wild flowers. She showed pictures of her own garden as well as of flowers native to Pennsylvania, New York and Florida, and climaxed her talk with pictures she had taken of the gardens of Holland.

Miss Barbara Carlton presided at the business meeting, held at the Barrett YMCA. Two projects were discussed: a square dance to be held Feb. 22, at Dutch's in Canadensis; and a fashion show for Friday, June 28.

Tickets for the square dance are now available from all club members. Mrs. William Cairney, chairman of the fashion show, announced that it would be put on by the Globe Store in Scranton and would be held at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

The club voted to send $30 to an agency which sponsors a foster child program, and also voted to sponsor a Girl Scout Troop in Barrett.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Dr. Leitner Speaks At Ann Logan

A talk on the heart by Dr. M. J. Leitner, pathologist at the General Hospital, followed a film on heart disease at the meeting of the Anna Logan Society of the General Hospital held at the YMCA on Monday night.

Mrs. Alexander Lee also spoke briefly on the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund and the luncheon she had attended in Philadelphia when Danny Kaye was the speaker. The Anna Logan contributed their Christmas collections to UNICEF.

Mrs. T. I. Metzgar presided at the meeting. She and Mrs. Horace Butler will serve as the library committee for the new medical library which the society is sponsoring at the hospital. Mrs. Laura Thomas was named team captain to replace Mrs. Russell Kern who resigned as captain. Mrs. Helen Fuller was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. James Gavin and Mrs. Elwood Hintze were named to purchase some new equipment for the children's ward.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. J. J. McCuskey's team which included Mrs. C. B. Altomere, Mrs. J. L. Colman, Mrs. Charles Rushmore and Mrs. Nelson Westbrook.

Reiser Circle Has Meeting

Irene Reiser Circle of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church yesterday launched their discussion of Thailand under the leadership of Mrs. Elton Denning at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. F. Rhodes and Mrs. S. S. Shiffer, Scott St.

Mrs. E. B. Turn, chairman, presided at the meeting when the devotions were led by Mrs. Harry Tetlow. Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Shiffer served a Valentine tea.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The youngsters who will be coming home from school tomorrow laden with loot from the Valentine Box will be no more delighted than were the women's club executive board members parading down the streets with the big comic Valentines they got from Mary Leister at the luncheon yesterday afternoon.

Never, I guess, do we outgrow the joy of being appreciated, and while these were comic Valentines, they were Valentines with a point and the cartoons had been selected with a view to the recipient's amusement.

Which, incidentally, suggests a use for those cartoons which are too funny to throw away but too bulky to be kept forever. The trouble is that like all bright ideas, it takes forethought and planning.

Jotting down suggestions for Christmas gifts as your favorite people mention that they'd like such and such anytime during the year, keeping a birthday list handy so you can send a note to your favorite friends, clipping items that you know would interest: they're all wonderful ideas, but you have to do them not just think about doing them.

Some people do. Like Mary Leister for her executive board, and whoever left me that clipping from a 1954 Atlantic Monthly which I'm saving for April, save the day.

Panel Program For Shawnee Church Aux.

Shawnee — A 20-question panel discussion on "What Is Our Faith?" marked the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Shawnee Presbyterian Church held at the home of Mrs. Minhard Flor, Panel members included Miss Ester Slove, Mrs. Ned Copenhaver, Mrs. Edna Crown, Mrs. Peggy Kulp and Mrs. Helen Heller, chairman. Mrs. Polly Hope led the devotions.

At the business meeting the auxiliary voted to pledge $500 for the year toward the new Sunday School. Various projects will be held to raise the money.

Mrs. Dorothy Reeves, president, also announced that a farewell party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. David Newquist and their children will be held at the parish hall on Feb. 25. The Newquists are leaving for their new charge in Johnston.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lillian Burnley with a program on the "United Nations," it was announced.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Flor and Mrs. Freda Behrends.

Em Dee Club Guests At Wallingford's

Appenzell — The Em Dee Club held its February meeting at the Wallingford home with Evelyn Wallingford as hostess. At the business meeting with Abbie Paul presiding the club voted $5 to the polo drive.

Games were played with Margaret Butz winning the cake contest and Mary Rustine the door prize, a hickory nut cake.

At refreshment time menus displaying the food available in riddle form were distributed. Members before ordering were instructed that the price of any food, ordered but uneaten, must be contributed to the building fund. In spite of the unappetizing names given the food, the food itself was good and very small were the returns to the building fund.

Secret pals exchanged Valentines. Attending were Abbie Paul, Marie Paul, Leola Wallingford, Cora Warner, Lucille Bense, Mary Rustine, Margaret Butz, Jean Gerstlaue, Elsie Wallingford, Marjorie Paul and Evelyn Wallingford.

History Of Diamonds At Bangor Club

Bangor — An illustrated address on the history of diamonds was presented by Wilson Jackson, local gemologist who is associated with Stecker's Jewelry Store, during the meeting of the Bangor Senior Women's Club in the club rooms at the public library building Monday afternoon.

Introduced by his mother, Mrs. Raymond Jackson, he said that diamonds date back to 800 B.C., when they were first discovered in riverbeds in India. In 1866 the first mine was opened in South Africa. The Kimberley Mines there now are the leading producers of gem diamonds.

He noted that about 23 tons of blue ground in which diamonds are found must be processed to yield one carat of gem quality diamonds. New York City is the center of the diamond cutting industry, with Antwerp and Amsterdam following. The value of a diamond is determined by color, clarity, cutting and carat weight. He stated that it is not only the most beautiful but also the most enduring of gems.

Slides accompanying his lecture showed the mining, processing and cutting of the gem as well as the Crown Jewels of England. The largest diamond in the world is in the scepter which Queen Elizabeth carried at the coronation. Diamond settings in rings, bracelets, brooches, earrings, etc., also were shown.

Mrs. Clark Hahn, president, directed the business session preceding the program. A contribution to the Heart Fund was accepted. Mrs. Theodore Hatter and Vernon Heste, co-chairmen, also reported on the dessert to be held in the club on Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 2 p.m., for the benefit of the Visiting Nurse.

Mrs. Luther Ackerman, chairman; Mrs. B. P. Gieske, Mrs. George Albert, Mrs. Sidney Spry, Mrs. Charles Steinmetz and Mrs. William Hyde served as hostesses. At the next meeting Monday, Feb. 25 at 2:30 p.m., Mrs. James A. Halliday will head the committee of hostesses. Mrs. Cornell Wallwork, county music chairman, will provide the entertainment.

Hospital Aux. To Nominate Dr. N. M. Price

The General Hospital Auxiliary yesterday voted to nominate one of its own members, Dr. Nina Mae Price, for the Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania Award for 1957. Dr. Price will round out 50 years of active medical practice this June when she will be among those to receive the 50th Anniversary medals for graduation exercises at the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Price was the speaker at yesterday's well-attended meeting held at the directors' room at the General Hospital. She spoke on the heart and answered questions from the members.

Mrs. Gilbert Barthold, president, reported on plans for the 13th Pocono Mountains Antiques Show and Sale sponsored annually by the Hospital Auxiliary. It will be held this year in the gymnasium at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College July 31 and August 1 and 2, and will inaugurate a number of new features.

Mrs. Barthold also announced the meeting of the N. E. Regional Hospital Aux. Assn. to be held Wed., Feb. 20 at Nesbitt Memorial Hospital, Kingston, which several members plan to attend.

One new member, Mrs. Carl Adelman, was welcomed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Donald Lambert and Mrs. Barthold.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Last call for Valentine shoppers!

And let me remind you that you might as well be a dead duck tomorrow if you haven't made like a Goshawk and given your heart to someone who might be expecting it . . . Just as Loveland, Colorado, claims itself to be America's Sweetheart Town, ours is undoubtedly Stroudsburg's Sweetheart Store—and if a gift from Wyckoff's wouldn't please, then that Heart of yours is just too, too demanding . . . Never have I seen a lovelier Valentine than our big front window, with all the filmy lingerie that would delight any feminine heart. There are crimson nighties and dusters, cloud-like white dusters with delicate pastel applique on the full puffed sleeves, pink and white nighties rich with lace—oh, what a dream window! Then—as though all this were not enough—our display department has included dozens of other delightful items: perfumes shimmering in crystal bottles, jewels catching the sunlight and glinting flirtatiously, pretty handkerchiefs to wave mischievously or to delicately pat away tears—even a fan, splendidly charming in its coquetry. So much of magic in Valentine's Day; so much that's young-in-heart for a jaded old world to enjoy! . . . Dottie Dunn reminds me that I'm scheduled soon to do a book review for one of the groups at Zion Reformed Church. Certainly it shouldn't be difficult to select something worthwhile from all the books on the best seller list right now. At the moment I'm charmed by "The Nun's Story," and for the Woman's Club this past Monday afternoon I reviewed Rebecca West's novel "The Fountain Overflows."

Also on our Wyckoff book shelves is the FBI story, which probably would be a particularly good choice for review before a woman's organization, but which certainly sounds intriguing. This particular book was snatched up avidly as soon as it hit the book stands sometime before Christmas. Its sale was so stupendous, the publisher was totally unprepared—and so, for a time, it was almost impossible to buy a copy. Now we have it in stock once again—but only temporarily, I'm sure. Another book that's found a delighted audience is "Papa's Wife," which is being circulated by the Reformed women from their own library, and which we are selling here at Wyckoff's. It's the story of a Swedish minister, who is a rather reluctant bridegroom, but lives to enjoy a rich, full, humorous, utterly delightful life with mama, and their brood . . . Betty Colvin, home from Camp school, tells me she still hasn't her diploma. She is permitted to fit garments under the eagle eye of Mae Coffman or Rae Hurtz, but has 100 pages of test papers to fill out and submit before the company will decide whether or not she is qualified to represent them. "This is no hit or miss thing," Betty tells you seriously. "You've really got to know your stuff before you get a Camp diploma." There were, she says, 97 women from all over the country at the Camp School, and all the courses were taught by registered nurses. "As a matter of fact," says Betty, "Camp has no one but registered nurses on the road." There were also 14 men at school, although the courses were separate except for one or two lectures. The men were being trained to fit all kinds of braces and supports for men—something I never realized until now that . . . Camp manufactures . . . Guess the rumor must have gotten around that John Munier likes Yardley's. Certainly he was showered with plenty of it at the birthday surprise given him the other evening at the home of the James Colemanans. But you know, he isn't the only well known local male who was born on Lincoln's birthday—so was Tom Waring, and we hope we're not too late with congratulations! . . . Amusing Valentine for a child might be the 193 parking meter bank being sold in our Wyckoff toy department. Mounted on a red stick, it looks very much like the real parking meters up and down Main street. Depositing a nickel insures thirty minutes of parking; a dime "buys" an hour, and when it's time for another deposit, there's a flagrant "Expired" as a reminder. Buy one for Junior—maybe he'd like to save for a Jaguar—and he might just as well learn early about parking meters.

ESSTC Five Rallies For 82-81 Win Nazareth Dims Eastburg

Tom Spillane Taps Cinching Goal Through

TOM (Mickey) Spillane's tap in the last two seconds gave East Stroudsburg State Teachers a 82-81 comeback victory over Paterson STC on the Warriors floor last night.

Spillane's cinch came after Chris Galombos brought the forces of Jim Reed back from a 81-77 deficit via a three-foul swish.

The Warriors, sparked by Charley German's great play and 33-point effort, had to overcome a 10-point Paterson lead in the late stages to go on and even their seasonal record at 6-5.

The loss was a big blow to the invaders who had come into the fray with a fine 11-3 record and aspirations for a NAIA basketball tournament bid.

Fairly Even
East Stroudsburg, playing without its hitherto high scorer, the injured Dave (Kelly) McLaughlin, battled Paterson on even terms most of the way before the visitors broke loose to pick up the 10-point margin.

Paterson led 35-34 at halftime but the locals managed to get one and two points edges before the tilt began switching hands. During the second half the contest was knotted at 42, 44, 46, 48 and 52 before Paterson went out in front.

But German and little Stevie Oliveri, the 5-4 mite, joined forces with Spillane and Galombos to turn what looked like defeat in a rousing Warrior win.

German Tabs 33
German led the Warrior parade with 33, trailed by Oliveri's 19 and Galombos' 12.

Jim Dolan, who netted 17 out of 18 fouls, was high for Paterson with 23. Finches, Matthew, Cosgrove and Briant followed with 19, 13, 11 and 10 respectively.

The Warriors outscored Paterson from the field, 30 goals to 18. But the invaders made up for this on the foul line hitting a phenomenal 45 out of 56.

Despite all their charity shooting, Paterson couldn't cope with hustling German and Oliveri and clutchmen Galombos and Spillane.

The box score:
PATERSON FG. F. T. 19 45 81
ESSTC FG. F. T. 18 45 81

Greene-Dreher Tries For Lead In Conference
MOSCOW—Greene-Dreher-Sterling shared first place in the Wayne County Conference with Waymart today following the Stags 54-46 victory over Moscow here last night.

The triumph was the sixth in seven circuit starts for Henry Arneberg's five and gave them a 13-2 over-all record.

Greene-Dreher had to come on in the second half to gain the lead and go on to win, Moscow led 12-7 after the first eight minutes of action, but the Stags matched them point for point in the second to keep the margin at five, 24-19.

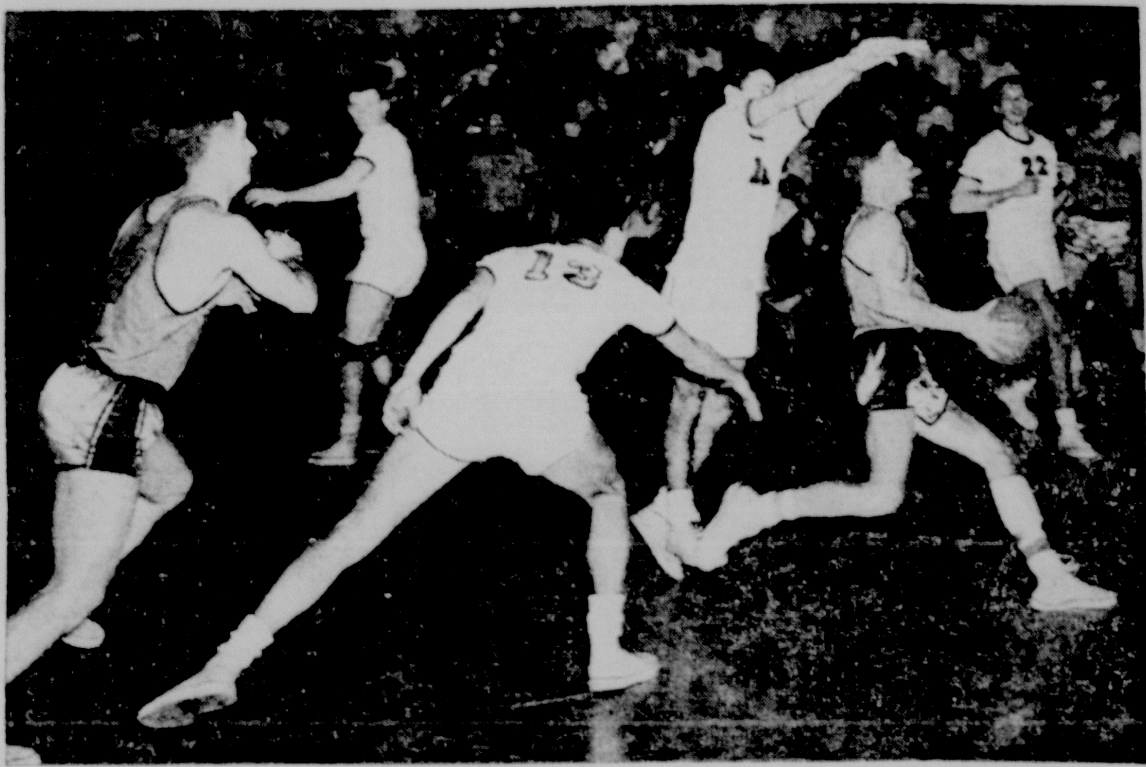

Greene-Dreher broke out its attack moving in the third stanza, outscoring their hosts, 18-9, and gaining a four-point buffer, 37-33, for the final assault. The Stags picked up four more in the fourth as the host team tried to get back into the contest.

Phillips was the top point getter for the Stags, canning 23 markers, Bob Haag and Johnny Hinds followed with 15 and 10, Fleckenstein and Yaeger headed Moscow with 13 and 12 respectively.

Home Friday
The Stags return to the courts again Friday, hosting Delaware Valley Joint High at Newfound-land. Earlier in the year the Milford quintet stopped a Greene-Dreher winning streak.

HEAVY, HEAVY, WHAT HANGS OVER—Little Stevie Oliveri, 5-4 East Stroudsburg Teachers player hovers over the head of Paterson's Oliveri in clash between the two teams in the Warriors gymnasium last night. Oliveri's fine play, plus the efforts of Charley German, Tom Spillane and Chris Galombos, helped Warriors pull out 82-81 squeaker. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Pocono Twp. Nears ML Title

POCONO TWP. HIGH was one step away—a postponed game with Coolbaugh—clinching the championship of the Monroe County Scholastic League today after clinching at last the tie last night by rapping Polk 72-35.

Barrett, mathematically still in the running for the title, clung to a ray of hope by romping over Chestnut Hill 56-25. In the other league contests, Tobyhanna went on a rampage to down Coolbaugh, 82-54.

13th In 14 Games
KRESGEVILLE — Scoring almost as they pleased, Pocono Township waited to its 13th victory in 14 league games by minimizing Polk, 72-35, here last night.

The defending league champs of Harry Werkheiser stepped out to a 14-6 first quarter lead and held at 40-9 spread at the intermission. With reserves dotting the lineup for the most part, Pocono still managed to outscore Art Smith's lads, 32-26 in the final half.

Pocono only needs a win over Coolbaugh to nail down the flag in the Monroe loop.

Martiniell Again
Ron Martiniell, of the Werkheiser's big weapons during the second half championship chase, again led Pocono's attack last night. The lean, 6-foot-plus, center ripped through 27 markers to take individual game honors.

Paul Frailley and Larry Starnar also helped out with 16 and 12 respectively. Matty Held topped Polk's offense with 15.

The loss evened Polk's record at 7-7.

In the junior varsity game, Pocono's underlings defeated Polk's J.V.s, 40-15. Adkins headed the Little Poconos, with 16, while Paulus dumped nine to take honors for Polk.

The varsity boxscore:
POCONO TWP. FG. F. T. 72 35 81
POLK FG. F. T. 35 81 135

MOSCOW—Greene-Dreher-Sterling shared first place in the Wayne County Conference with Waymart today following the Stags 54-46 victory over Moscow here last night.

The triumph was the sixth in seven circuit starts for Henry Arneberg's five and gave them a 13-2 over-all record.

Greene-Dreher had to come on in the second half to gain the lead and go on to win, Moscow led 12-7 after the first eight minutes of action, but the Stags matched them point for point in the second to keep the margin at five, 24-19.

Greene-Dreher broke out its attack moving in the third stanza, outscoring their hosts, 18-9, and gaining a four-point buffer, 37-33, for the final assault. The Stags picked up four more in the fourth as the host team tried to get back into the contest.

Phillips was the top point getter for the Stags, canning 23 markers, Bob Haag and Johnny Hinds followed with 15 and 10, Fleckenstein and Yaeger headed Moscow with 13 and 12 respectively.

Home Friday
The Stags return to the courts again Friday, hosting Delaware Valley Joint High at Newfound-land. Earlier in the year the Milford quintet stopped a Greene-Dreher winning streak.

A SCRANTON kegling all-star team, featuring the best pin-top-players in Lackawanna County, will show their wares at the Barrett Bowling Center, Friday night.

The Anthracite region array has two of the better known bowlers in the United States as well as a pair of Scranton Times League satellites. The "big ones" in the Scranton lineup are Frankie Clause, a former Old Forge school teacher who now makes his home in New Jersey, and George Billick, another Old Forge native.

Clause and Billick have tossed about forty 300 masterpieces during their careers on the lanes. Frankie recently has been making a name for himself on the eastern kegling front, while Billick is a well-established TV performer.

The other two stars are Mike Cuce and George Tomek, perennial average leaders in the first class Scranton circuit.

Opposing this aggregation will be a star-studded east rolling under the banner of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot. Included in their lineup are Louis DePaul, Ed Kanens, Nick Forster, Major Mueller and Captain Stenbach, all grade-A material in the right.

The match is slated to get underway at 8:30 p. m.

Joe Hodgson led the way in Harmon's Recreation League bowling last week with a 565 match. However, Lefty Harper came up with high single of 230, which enabled him to come within three pins—562—of Hodgson for best of the week.

Other good matches were hung up by Kulp Sr., 558; Dick Fabel, 552; and Joe Scalzo, 550.

Detrick's Dairy, garnerer of a 1906 game not too long ago, fired a 950 last week to take team honors once again. However, Bennett's Texaco is still in first place, nine full points in front of No. 3 Dairyman. Slate Belt Roofers had down second place, seven games off the pace.

Dick Greiner's 604 failed to save his Shafer mates from a three-point loss to Frank, the Barber, as Steve Balick led a more even "shave and a haircut" attack with 596.

Tommy Summers continues to knock 'em down in the Commercial B, posting a 677 effort the last time out. Other better scores were compiled by Joe Hodgson, 581; Jim Harmon Sr., 595; and Paul Strouk, 586.

Led by Joe Scalzo's 637 and Russ Bergman's 611, Community Bar walloped Square Bar for four points in the Monroe Classic. In the second game of the match, Scalzo ripped off a 230 and the team ran up a 1003 singleton.

Tom Summers hit his fourth straight 600 match in the Classic as he came through again in fine style. Joining Tom and Joe in the 600 group last week were Dick Anderson, 604; and Jack Darr, 612.

Andy Albert smashed out a new single game high for the second half in the Industrial League when he swished through for a 240 glitterer. The game enabled Albert to pick up four more points in his average, jumping from 167 to 171.

Warren Paul continues to pace the average leaders, however, with a 183.5 norm. Like last week, Bob Smith is still on his heels with 181.2.

Ed Weber had his troubles on the lanes with 16 open frames. This "rough" figure doesn't take in the splits the Daily Record tosser came up with.

Notable average gains were made by Bill Zubrod, 171 to 174; Oscar Stuckey, 171 to 174; Howard Sarely, 165 to 168; Sam Ellingwood, 156 to 159; and Howard Strouse, 143 to 146.

The week's top match was hit by Stuckey, a 575; next was Sarely with 559, followed by Albert with 553.

Monroe All-Stars Game Set For Friday In Eastburg Gym

MONROE COUNTY SCHOLASTIC League's annual all-star classic will be played Friday at East Stroudsburg High's gymnasium, MCSSL official Joe Wile, principal of Pocono Township High, announced last night.

Two games are scheduled with the main event featuring, in all probability, Pocono Twp., the league's current pacesetter and a star-studded array of payers from Barrett, Polk, Chestnut Hill, Tobyhanna and Coolbaugh High's fives.

The first game will bring together the winners of the league's junior varsity league and a "selected" group from the other five schools.

Last year, Pocono Twp., the league's kings, beat out the all-stars with a great spurt in the second half.

2 Postponed Tilt

While Pocono Twp. is all "but in" the charges of Harry Werkheiser must still get in a postponed game with Coolbaugh before the full 1956-57 slate is completed. The same is true of Barrett, Pocono's closest competitor, which also has a makeup game with Polk.

It is expected the games will be run off today or tomorrow.

The all-star games will get underway at 7:30 p. m. and will be followed with the feature attraction at approximately 8:30.

Banquet Feb. 28

Wile also announced that the league's annual banquet will be held at the Broadheadville Firehouse, Thursday, Feb. 28.

The affair, which will be highlighted by the presentation of the Daily Record Trophy to the league champions, will start at 6 p. m.

Wildcats Cop Grade School Court Title

In another windup clash, the Hawks posted its second win in six tries by downing the Rams, 13-9. Canfield's four tallies sparked the Hawks, while McGraw and Bentoni scored all of the losers' points with five and four respectively.

'Using Us (LA)'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 (AP)—County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, long a leading figure in efforts to get a major league baseball club for Los Angeles, said today he believes the Brooklyn Dodgers "are using us" in an attempt to obtain a new park in Brooklyn.

Hahn was commenting on a New York Daily News story that the Dodgers may shift their franchise, probably to Los Angeles, unless they are assured within six months that Brooklyn will build them a 50,000-seat stadium.

Eastburg High Away Today At Phillipsburg

EAST Stroudsburg High's basketball team will make up a postponed tilt with Phillipsburg, N. J. High today on the Garden Staters floor. Cavalier officials announced.

The contest was scheduled to be played Feb. 1 but was called off because of hazardous driving conditions.

Earlier in the season, Phillipsburg upset Doug Schoonover's five in the North Courtland St. gymnasium.

On the season, Phillipsburg has dropped nine games and won six.

STC Lassies Seek No. 3 Away Today

MISS ANN Venezia's unbeaten East Stroudsburg State Teachers' girls court machine will be seeking its third straight triumph of the season today when they take on Mercier's lassies in Dallas, Pa.

The Warriorettes, winners over Mercier and Cheyney STC in their only two outings thus far, had little trouble posting victory in over the Wilkes-Barre suburbanians in a meeting on Normal Hill earlier in the year.

May Play

Expected to play for Venezia's sextette are Abrams, Snyder, Boyd, Borsik, Behney, DiVine, Matalka, Underwood, Bucher, Kush, Steele, Fuhrman, Hessler, Malozzay, Enns, Yudkevitz, Shotta, Herman, Fisher, Focht and Whylock.

YMCA To Open Set Of Courses

A NEW SET of short term courses for adults begins during the next few days at the Stroudsburg YMCA.

Among them are the following:
Senior lifesaving—Course starts tonight at 6.

Ballroom dancing—Begins Friday night at 9. Mrs. Daisy Longenberger, a graduate of Arthur Murray's School of Dancing, will direct the course featuring the latest basic steps in ballroom dancing.

Food preparation and nutrition—Victor T. Mion, who has had many years of experience in teaching the subject, will be in charge. Course starts Tuesday, Feb. 19 at 7 p.m.

Sewing class—There are still some openings for anyone interested in learning how to make clothes for Spring.

A bridge club is now being organized at the Y. The first meeting will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. and all those interested are urged to attend.

Information about courses and clubs may be obtained by calling the YMCA, phone 832. Classes are available to members of the YMCA at no extra cost.

THE MONTHLY hymn sing sponsored by the EUB Church, Middle Creek, will be held on Sunday night with Mrs. Warren Lenhart, class leader in charge. Harvey Gildner, Bowmanstown, will speak as well as offer several trombone solos. Several surprise numbers by invited guests will also be presented. During the service the congregation will have the opportunity to select their favorite numbers and they will be included in the list sung by the congregation.

The Polk Twp. PTA is sponsoring a Valentine dance to be held in the school auditorium on Wednesday night at 8:30 with the Night Owls furnishing the music. Donations of cakes for the cake walk by the members of the PTA will be appreciated.

The date for the monthly meeting of the Polk Twp. PTA is next Monday at 8 p.m. Charles Hendry will preside. Final plans for the presentation by the organization of a minstrel will be made.

The newly appointed pastor of Timothy EUB Church, Middle Creek, Rev. John Foltz, announced that the next services will be held on Sunday at 11 a.m.

Word has been received of the death of a former resident of this community, Tilghman Serfass. He was the handy man of the community and was missed very much when he moved to Kellersville. He had the misfortune to lose both legs as a result of an accident on a saw mill while still a young man and would have lost his life had not his aunt, Mrs. Kate Green just happened to pass the mill and shut off the water, the source of power. His clothes had caught in a shaft and he was being twirled around with his feet striking the floor of the mill which necessitated the amputation of both legs above the knees.

Association Approves Plans For Dinner

MONROE COUNTY Ministerial Association yesterday approved final plans for a dinner meeting to consider the formation of a county council of churches.

Dr. Jesse D. Reber, general secretary of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches, will be the principal speaker at the session, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Period

Following the address, there will be a question-and-answer period. Every Protestant congregation has been invited to send its pastor and five laymen, either men or women, to the dinner meeting.

Special music will be presented by an ensemble from the Salvation Army under the direction of Capt. Charles Baker.

Stroudsburg Girl On Dean's List

MARTHA H. Williams, of 777 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, a sophomore at Dickinson College, has been named to the dean's list for high academic standing during the Fall semester which ended Feb. 1. Students must have made an average of 3.5 or better out of a possible 4.0 to be included on the select list.

Miss Williams will be a guest of the faculty at the annual Scholarship Dinner on Feb. 28, when Bishop Fred P. Corson, Philadelphia, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Madeline Angle, East Stroudsburg, Dies In Hospital After Illness Of Four Months

MRS. MADELINE ANGLE, widow of Dr. Walter Angle, 229 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, died at 3:15 p.m. yesterday in General Hospital after four months' illness.

Born in Oakland, Calif., she was a daughter of the late James Lincoln and Elizabeth Parmentier Turner. She had lived in the Stroudsburgs the past 35 years where she was a member of Christ Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Angle was past president of St. Mary's Guild of that church; a member of the American Red Cross Gray Ladies; Monroe County Garden Club and the General Hospital Auxiliary.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Nona Naegle, Succasunna, N. J., and Mrs. Anne Marshall, New York City; nine grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Leona T.

Wilson, East Stroudsburg; two brothers, Arnold J. Turner, Sea Girt, N. J., and Ralph L. Turner, Lakewood, N. J.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Episcopal Church, with the Revs. Charles Park and Thomas Shoemaker officiating. Interment will be made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. There will be no viewing. William H. Clark is in charge of arrangements.

35th Anniversary For Van Horn

BUDD VAN HORN, manager of the Bell Telephone Co., today completes 35 years of service with that organization. A dinner will be held at Linden Court, Sciota, tonight to mark the event.

Van Horn started his telephone career in Wilkes-Barre and came to Stroudsburg in 1948. He resides with his wife, Betty at 158 Maple Ave., East Stroudsburg. They have a daughter Debra and a son Jack.

Gap Scouts To Be Honored

SCOUTS IN Delaware Water Gap will be honored tonight at 6:30 with a special "Blue and Gold Banquet."

The dinner will be held in the borough fire house. Dinner will be prepared by den mothers. Parents, friends and Girl Scouts will also attend.

State Lists Pike Purchase

THE STATE GAME Commission has added an 8,100-acre tract to its public game land in Pike County, Dr. Logan J. Bennett, executive director, said today.

Bennett said the land was purchased at $20 an acre from the Shohola Falls Co., Limited, Stroudsburg. The tract is situated in Dingman and Blooming Grove Twp., and is adjacent to existing game lands.

Commission

The commission, Bennett reported, will now go ahead with marking and clearing boundary lines. "We also are planning to plant food patches in the area," he said.

Bennett listed as a long-range
